Eyes Efforts Of Britain, France, Vatican

Johnson Doubts Reds Set To Negotiate Viet Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, watching with interest the efforts abroad to promote a Viet Nam settlement, is not convinced the Communists are ready for serious negotiations.

Johnson, who sticks to a stated willingness to entertain a settlement guaranteeing the integrity and independence of South Viet Nam, has been reluctant to talk in detail about American policy and intentions in that part of the world because:

1. He wants to retain complete flexibility of action, in the military and diplomatic spheres, by avoiding any statement that would tie his hands or lead the Communists to believe they were free to take certain actions without risking counterblows.

2. Even if Johnson thought the Communists were ready for settlement talks, which he doesn't, he is convinced it would be harmful to spell out in advance the terms acceptable to the United States, believing these might be rejected almost automatically and thus lessen prospects for an eventual political solution.

Johnson is watching closely the efforts of Britain, France and the Vatican to promote a Viet Nam peace.

A State Department spokesman said Tuesday that the United States has been in consultation with Britain on U.S. views about the possibility of a peaceful settlement. Discussions have also been held with the Soviet Union, the spokesman said.

Johnson has been reluctant to encourage efforts of other nations, not only because of his skepticism about Communist willingness to talk, but because he fears premature negotiations and attendant publicity could result in a definite psychological setback, if nothing worse, should they fail amid high hopes.

Johnson has been the target of some criticism because he has not made a detailed Viet Nam policy statement or set forth acceptable settlement terms.

Congressman Against Talks With Reds Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, who recently made an inspection trip to South Viet Nam, said today negotiation with the Communists under present conditions would be capitulation.

The New Jersey Democrat, a member of the Foreign Affairs and Armed Services committees, said, "If Peking and Hanoi remain intractable in their right to subvert a free government in violation of our existing agreements, what is there to negotiate except the abandonment of freedom?"

It was learned from a congressional source that while Gallagher initiated the idea for the speech, he prepared key parts of it in consultation with State Department officials at the highest level. It therefore was viewed as representing an indirct reply by the administration to some who have been urging a course of negotiation in the Viet Nam crisis.

Tuesday Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., assailed proposals for disengagement in Viet Nam as "new isolationism."

Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and George McGovern, D-S.D., are among those who have urged a peaceful settlement on the stepped-up conflict.

Gallagher's speech was prepared for delivery in the House today.

U.S. Throws Jet Planes At Reds In Viet

Marks First Time For Americans To Use Type In South

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States has unleashed jet planes for the first time against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, a U.S. Embassy spokesman announced today. They have made several strikes in the last six days.

B57 medium bombers and F100 fighter-bombers, with Americans manning both flight controls and the weapons, joined the air war previously carried on by armed helicopters and propeller-driven planes handled jointly by Americans and Vietnamese.

The spokesman said the decision was "in keeping with the announced United States policy of providing maximum assistance to the government of South Viet Nam in its efforts to repel the Communist aggression directed and supported by the Hanoi regime."

The first strike was made last Thursday against Red guerrillas holding a mountain pass near An Khe in the central highlands.

Battles between powerful Viet Cong units and government outfits continued sweeping across mountainous Binh Dinh Province today, with a rapidly rising casualty toll.

In the past three days of fighting in that northern province, the Americans alone have lost two killed and nine wounded. Vietnamese casualties on both sides are estimated in the hundreds.

Most of the fighting is in steep valleys where roads furnish the main communications routes for government forces.

Many U.S. officials feel the action in Binh Dinh and the neighboring provinces of Phu Yen and Quang Ngai has entered a phase the Communists describe as "mobile warfare" — the use of large Communist units in patterns somewhere between guerrilla and conventional warfare.

This type of fighting characterized the final phase of fighting between France and the Communists in the Indochina war, which the Communists won.

U.S. And Red China Envoys At Session

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Ambassadors of Communist China and the United States met today in a session that diplomats here said could influence the crisis in Southeast Asia.

U.S. Ambassador John Moors Cabot and Chinese envoy Wang Kuo-chuan came face to face in the 126th meeting of the ambassadorial talks that began in 1955 in Geneva. It was their first session since Nov. 25 last year.

The American and Chinese embassies in Warsaw have an agreement to maintain strict secrecy about the talks.

Asks Global Conference

France Supports Soviet Viet Plans

PARIS (AP) — France has agreed to cooperate with the Soviet Union in pressing for an international conference to negotiate a settlement of the Viet Nam conflict, Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte said today.

Peyrefitte said the question had been discussed at the weekly Cabinet meeting this morning.

Sergei Vinogradov, Soviet ambassador to France, called at the Elysee Palace for a 20-minute discussion Tuesday with President Charles de Gaulle.

Peyrefitte said that during the talks, Vinogradov proposed that the two governments work together to re-establish peace in Southeast Asia through an international conference.

De Gaulle was reported to have told Vinogradov that "we are in favor of this goal."

In addition to his oral presentation to De Gaulle, Vinogradov left a memorandum of the Soviet views. A Soviet spokesman said Vinogradov told De Gaulle the Kremlin was deeply worried by the U.S. attacks in North Viet Nam.

Peyrefitte said that France's position would be spelled out more specifically in the near future in a diplomatic note to the Soviet Union.

France is on record as favoring a neutralization of the four countries on the Indochinese peninsula — North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

As the former colonial ruler of Indochina, France feels that it has special knowledge of the area, and some influence with the people.

Although nothing was said about the nations which might attend a conference on the Vietnamese fighting, De Gaulle frequently has said that Red China must be consulted on any problems in that area. Red China took part in the 1954 Indochinese conference at Geneva, which resulted in French withdrawal from the area and the partition of Viet Nam. The United States refused to sign the 1954 Geneva agreement.

Starred With Hardy In Films

Stan Laurel Of Popular Comedy Team Dies At 74

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Stan Laurel, the little, rubber-faced partner of the late, 300-pound Oliver Hardy in the movies' most successful comedy team, is dead of a heart attack at 74.

Victim of a stroke in 1955 and of diabetes in later years, he suffered the fatal seizure Tuesday in his bluff-top apartment overlooking the ocean. His fourth wife, Ida, was at his side.

Laurel and Hardy starred in 300 films, mostly two-and three-reelers, and made millions laugh.

They were the 30s' slapstick kings and their films still are shown regularly on television and in theaters around the world.

Fans remember Laurel as the crop-haired, bungling yet lovable scamp, who, wearing a blank, stupid expression, inevitably brought disaster to his fat, exasperated partner.

Babe Hardy used to say Laurel was the brains of their act. Stan wrote and directed many of their films.

In a stock situation, the skinny Laurel and the rotund Hardy were at odds with authority — landlord, grim mother-in-law or chief of police. They always lost — except at the box office.

Laurel was born Arthur Stanley Jefferson June 16, 1890, in Ulverston, England, the son of a theatrical family. Spending much of his childhood in dressing rooms and railroad stations, he toured with his parents in English stock companies. He later attended King James Grammar School, Gainford School and Tynemouth College.

STAN LAUREL
From A 1941 Movie.

His stage debut at 7 was in "Lights of London." At 15 he toured Europe on his own song and dance act. At 17 he joined Fred Arno's London comedians, starring Charlie Chaplin.

The company arrived in New York in 1910 on a cattle boat, toured the country for three years and disbanded. Stan went into vaudeville, then the flickers.

2 Fires In East End

2 Persons Suffer Burns, 2 Others Saved In Blaze

2 Of Family Rescued On Porch Roof

Workshop Razed In Another Blaze After Heater Blast

Two persons were burned and two were rescued from a porch roof when fire hit an East End home early this morning.

The blaze at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewie Williams, 1049 Monaca St., damaged a bedroom and a kitchen, according to city firemen, who were summoned at 4:45 a. m.

The fire originated in a bed, firemen said. Mrs. Helen Williams, 39, and her brother, Elwood W. Davis, 25, who is home on furlough from the Army, were burned on the hands attempting to put out the fire.

When they were unsuccessful, one of the six Williams children ran to the home of a neighbor, John E. Eckstein, to call the fire department.

When firemen arrived on the scene, two of the family were on the porch roof, where they climbed to safety from an upstairs bedroom.

Friemen took them down by ladder. Firemen fought the blaze for about an hour.

The fire spread from the bedroom to a kitchen and both rooms were badly damaged, firemen reported.

The call was answered by the No. 1 truck from Central Station and the No. 2 truck from East End station.

Mrs. Williams was treated at City Hospital for burns of the right hand and left index finger while Davis suffered blisters of both hands.

Several neighbors were unaware of the fire until later this morning.

Another small East End structure was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon at 5:20.

A small workshop at the rear of the Charles Goddard residence at 1249 Chaffin Alley was burned to the ground after a kerosene heating stove exploded.

Firemen said Goddard used

Broader Plan For Guarding President Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cabinet committee on presidential safety is expected to recommend shortly that more money, manpower and investigative authority be devoted to the protection of presidents.

The commission, it is understood, will reject proposals that the responsibility for guarding the life of the president by shifted from the Secret Service to the FBI or some other agency.

Informed official sources said the four-man group headed by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon also has reached substantial agreement on other problems of presidential security and will deliver its report to the White House shortly.

The Cabinet committee was named by President Johnson last Sept. 28. The Warren Commission, in its report that day on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, urged that such a body be established to review and oversee presidential protective activities.

In addition to Dillon, whose department embraces the Secret Service, the members are Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

The White House is expected to make the report public, since the findings will have a significant bearing on the action to be taken by Congress on pending and proposed protective measures.

Union Ballots Will Name 52 For Primary

Potters Set Initial Vote On Tuesday; 12 Posts At Stake

Fifty-two names will be listed on the ballot for a primary election Tuesday in which members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will pick two nominees for each of 12 top offices.

The union listed the candidates today, explaining they filed official blanks to agree to contest for the posts after they were nominated by local unions. Terms are for four years. The general election will be held on May 4.

E. L. Wheatley, president, is seeking a new term, opposed by four other candidates. They are: Floyd Jividen of Local 9, Stewart Chambers of Local 51, William E. Haught of Local 148 and Alex S. Murray of Local 231.

Charles F. Jordan, bidding for a new term as secretary-treasurer, is opposed by James R. Norris of Local 9 and Harold C. Wilson of Local 7.

Walter E. Clawges is running for a new term as first vice president. His opponents are John J. Cooper of Local 45, Walter J. Lawler of Local 174 and Joseph Leadem of Local 49.

Bernard Rowbottom of Local 214 is unopposed for a new term as second vice president. George Barbaree of Local 236, fourth vice president, also has no opponents.

Nine are seeking the third vice president's post from which James Slaven of St. Clair Ave. expects to retire at the end of the current term. They are: John W. Andrason and James B. Moss, both of Local 320, Ralph Glaab of Local 33, Wallace Green of Local 51, Albert Kenst of Local 42, Charles R. Michaels and Clarence E. Moore, both of Local 24, Lester Null of Local 220 and Gus Sharkey of Local 86.

Seven are seeking the post of fifth vice president, including the incumbent, Joseph Guadagno of Local 181. The other aspirants are Charles M. Cobb of Local 108, Thomas P. Gallagher of Local 45, Richard P. Gron-

Appraisal Slated On Parking Sites

As the next step in a movement to acquire additional property in the downtown area for establishment of metered off-street parking lots, Council asked Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper Tuesday night to obtain impartial appraisals on the fair market value of about a half a dozen tracts that have been proposed.

The decision came as the climax of an hour-long caucus session with 17 representatives of the East Liverpool Merchants Association in which the businessmen asserted repeatedly there are growing customers complaints on the lack of parking facilities.

THE TWO groups agreed to meet again on Tuesday, March 16, at 7:30 p. m. for a progress report.

Council was represented last night by President George E. Willshaw and Councilman Floyd Murray, James Cunningham, Donald E. Smith, Norman Bucher, Donald Hancock and Robert W. Sample. The solicitor also attended.

Dayton Allen, president, headed the ELMA delegation, which was made up primarily of the owners or managers of major downtown retail outlets.

Bucher explained that Council sought the disinterested appraisal figures as a way of indicating what investment the city might have to make to acquire the properties. Firm prices have been obtained on two sites—two adjoining tracts on E. 3rd St. owned by W. Leland Thompson and the property of the Hazel Laughlin estate on W. 5th St.—but quotations on others are tentative.

IN ADDITION to the E. 3rd and W. 5th St. tracts, others that have been mentioned as possible parking lot sites are on the north side of W. 6th St. about midway between Jackson and

2 Bound Over For Burglary At Gas Station

Men Enter Denials At Arraignment On E. 3rd St. Entry

Two young men allegedly trapped by police early Friday during a burglary at Cooper's Amoco Service Station on E. 3rd St. were bound over to the Grand Jury under $2,500 bonds when arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on charges of breaking and entering with intent to steal property of value.

Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 1615 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, and William K. Hunt Jr., 121 Market St., entered not guilty pleas when arraigned on the affidavits signed by Lt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Jack Strobel.

Hunt also pleaded not guilty to a second charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was held to the Grand Jury, also on a $2,500 bond, on the second charge. Police alleged he was hiding in an empty 55-gallon oil drum, holding an automatic pistol between his knees, when located by the two officers.

Hawk, represented by Atty. Richard Kennedy of Lisbon, waived a preliminary hearing. Hunt was not represented by counsel. At his request, a preliminary hearing was held on the two counts he faces.

Police said officers trapped the two in the station after receiving a report from an unidentified woman resident of the area that she had heard glass

Phone Calls Threaten Leader

Security Plans Tightened For Muslims' Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Police, alarmed by telephoned threats on the life of Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, stepped up security plans today for the sect's convention in Chicago this weekend.

The calls to police came within a few hours of each other Tuesday. The first warned: "We have arrived. Muhammad will have a lively convention."

The second caller, who identified himself as John Henderson, said 100 men were coming to Chicago from New York to kill Muhammad. The caller also told police a bomb had been planted in the Coliseum, site of the convention which is expected to attract 6,000 Black Muslims.

Police said the caller indicated the bomb was timed to explode Friday or Saturday when Muhammad is scheduled to address the convention.

Telephoned bomb threats also harassed New York police and reinforcements were ordered into Harlem in an attempt to prevent further violence. Early Tuesday an explosion and fire, believed to have been set by avengers of Malcolm X, wrecked a four-story Muslim Mosque. Five firemen and one spectator were injured.

Tension mounted later when the funeral parlor housing the body of Malcolm X, the former Black Muslim leader who was assassinated Sunday in New York, was the victim of a false bomb threat. The body went on display a few hours later.

Police reported little progress in their investigation of Malcolm's slaying. Officials complained there was a barrier of silence among Malcolm's followers, members of the organization for the Afro-American unity. Malcolm was suspended from the Black Muslims 14 months ago.

Only one person, Talmadge Hayer, 22, has been arrested thus far in connection with the slaying. He has refused to say whether he has any affiliation with the Black Muslims.

Rain Then Sleet Seen As Prelude To Snow

A cold spell is heading for the East Liverpool area with rain or sleet late this afternoon as a prelude to possible snow by Thursday.

Tomorrow will also see blustery winds with the falling temperatures. The mercury dip may see mid-20 degrees by tomorrow afternoon, contrasted to the expected high of near 50 today. The Montgomery Dam said it had 42 at noon. An earlier forecase indicated up to 4 inches of snow tonight but apparently it will not develop.

Death Penalty Bill Revised By West Virginia's Senate

CHARLESTON (AP) — The bill to make West Virginia the 10th state without the death penalty has undergone major revision which will require House agreement if the measure wins Senate approval this week.

The Senate worked into Tuesday evening overhauling the House - passed bill. No more amendments are pending, but the Senate held the bill at amendment stage today to give members a chance to see the revised version in print before bringing it to a vote. A Senate vote cannot now come before Thursday.

The main Senate amendments were the work of Minority Leader John E. Carrigan, R - Marshall. He put through changes striking out provision for life prison sentences without possible parole for crimes which are now capital offenses.

Carrigan said a life sentence without hope of parole would be "more cruel than execution." He also argued that existence of a group of prisoners "with nothing to lose" would increase penitentiary security problems.

First - degree murder, rape, kidnaping and treason against the state are crimes which may result in sentence to the electric chair under the present law.

The bill which the House passed 82-15 on Feb. 12 would abolish the death penalty and make a life term the only sentence for first - degree murder and the maximum penalty for rape, kidnaping and treason.

Under the House - passed bill, provision ruling out the possibility of parole could have been added to life sentences for offenses which are now capital crimes. The no-parole restriction could have been added at the discretion of the jury convicting a defendant or the judge receiving a guilty plea.

These were the provisions thrown out by Carrigan's amendments. As changed in the Senate, the bill in effect would leave the parole system to operate as it does at present. A prisoner under life sentence for first - degree murder may, at present, be considered for parole after 10 years.

Power Firm Sets Friday Blackout For Newell Area

A four - hour suspension of power service is scheduled by the Monongahela Power Co. for about 300 customers in an area south of Newell Friday afternoon.

Walter Jordan, Chester manager of the utility, said the shutoff is planned to permit installation of automatic equipment which will reduce the length of power interruptions in the future.

The suspension is scheduled from 12:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. while crews work on the project.

The area involved includes 6th St. Rd. from Shadow Lawn Memory Gardens to Washington School Rd., all of Washington School Rd., Glendale, Snow Hill, Reddick's Hill, Arner Coal Mine Rd., Lenneyville, White Oak Run and Route 66 from the J. B. Porter home to Tomlinson Run bridge.

In event of inclement weather, the power suspension and work will be rescheduled for the same hours Saturday, Jordan said.

Soviet Tug 'Snoops' On Navy's War Games

LOS ANGELES (AP) — While the U.S. Navy conducts its amphibious war games off the Southern California coast, the sea-going Soviet tug Arban cruises quietly about the scene.

While the Arban cruises, so does the destroyer escort USS Lowe, tracking the Arban with radar from a distance of several miles, the Navy said Tuesday.

The 140-foot Arban appeared off Oregon last month and has been under Navy surveillance since.

The Arban's visit here, reportedly for ocean-bottom surveys, coincided with the beginning of the naval maneuver, Exercise Silver Lance.

A Navy source said the Arban can watch the widely publicized maneuvers from outside the three-mile limit.

Money Seen Key For Getting Volunteers In Space Tests

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The secret to getting volunteers for such space age experiments as living on liquids is a five-letter word—money.

So far it's worked for the Medical Research Laboratory at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base here to recruit more than two dozen volunteers, nearly all college students.

The volunteers live on experimental foods, undergo prolonged confinement in a "space tank" and submit to other tests.

They get $1,000—which shrinks to $845.23 cash after federal and city income taxes and Social Security deductions. The pay scale is calculated to insure completion of the tests—you only get $1,000 if you complete the assignment.

Through seven tests, there hasn't been a dropout.

Four Ohio State University students who ended six weeks of isolation, the last three on a liquid diet, Tuesday agreed they volunteered for the money.

"We're not bleary-eyed idealists," said John T. Kelley, 25, of Willoughby.

Brooks L. Harrop, 25, of Amlin, said the $1,000 led his wife to agree to the six-week separation. He talked with her by telephone twice. She, he said, "is very glad I'm getting out."

Some volunteers are motivated in part by curiosity. Gerald Paul Petersen, 22, Euclid, for instance, is a pre-medical student at Ohio State who's fascinated by medical research and flying.

"The $1,000 was for school," he said. "The rest I did because I wanted to." He termed the isolation "a good experience."

Such confinement teaches you about yourself, said Norman H. Gary, 22, Delaware, Ohio. He said he learned patience. "I sat for three hours one night," he said, "and just watched the wall." Other times they read and played cards — they wore out two decks.

The bearded volunteers took showers for the first time in five weeks—"I scrubbed three times and stayed under the shower 35 minutes," Gary said —then had their first hot meal after six weeks on cold solid food and the flavored milk concentrate.

Injuries Prove Fatal To Steelworker, 49

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Injuries received during a routine cleaning operation in an open hearth furnace were fatal to James T. Robinson, 49, a U.S. Steel Corp. employe.

A spokesman at the plant here said Robinson and three other men were injured by steam that formed when water was poured on hot flue dust Monday. He died Tuesday.

Ohio's Statewide University

A searching new look at the concept of state-financed higher education may be beginning to take shape in Ohio.

Last week, Gov. Rhodes' new budget reflected a philosophy of taking the college to the student, rather than the student to the college. The governor is proposing more money for state university branches.

By 1967, Gov. Rhodes promised in his budget message, every county of 80,000 or more will have state-supported or assisted higher education facilities.

The State Board of Regents, charged with proposing policy for higher education, already has indicated the trend toward providing more university branch facilities so more students, at least during their first two years, may attend college classes at or within easy access of their homes.

NOW SEN. ROSS PEPPLE, R-Allen, until this year chairman of the Ohio Senate's Education Committee, has let it be known that he is working toward building bipartisan support in the Assembly for his contention that it is time to restrict state funds for main campus expansion at the state universities in order to pump more money into development of branches.

Ever since the soaring birth rate of the latter '40s, Ohio's educators have known that college enrollments would expand commensurately, beginning now. They can be expected to continue to expand.

WHAT TO DO about them is Ohio's problem.

Probably the optimum peak has not yet been reached in some of Ohio's state universities. It may have been reached in others.

Size is advantageous — up to a point. What that point is, the educators — and those who control the pursestrings—must decide.

Where costly equipment, laboratories, buildings and land are needed, concentrations are economically and educationally desirable.

It is much more efficient to provide in one or two locations the expensive facilities needed for education in such fields as medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, agriculture, optometry and perhaps engineering and law. Ohio State, among this state's universities, provides these exclusively.

But Ohio State now may be nearing the bursting point, with some 35,000 on-campus students.

AT SOME POINT in the not-too-distant future it may be desirable to "farm out" more of that great university's first two or three years of training to more branch campuses. The trend already has begun, with branches established by Kent State, Ohio State, Ohio and Miami universities. More are on the planning boards.

Ohio State some day conceivably could be confined to Ohio's big graduate and professional school, accepting no student on campus below the junior year or the bachelor's degree level.

Greatest portion of a college education's expense, even in the private institutions, is for living — room and board. Students able to attend classes while living at home have the financial advantage. Most of them can figure out a way to finance their tuition fees.

The branches can provide the first two years of classes, even in such highly specialized fields as medicine, dentistry and engineering, for living-at-home students. Those who are motivated and able to pursue their education further could do so on a main campus with less total drain on the family pocketbook.

AT THE MOMENT there is no general agreement on what Ohio's policy should be.

But Ohioans can be sure there will be ample study and debate of what is the most feasible program.

The goal must be, inevitably, the maximum education of the most young men and women at the least cost to the individuals and the taxpayers.

What's A 'Luxury Tax'?

Hope is stirring again for repeal of those nuisance taxes imposed during World War II for the dual purpose of producing revenue and curtailing certain marginal expenditures.

That, at least, was what the public thought "luxury taxes," like the excise tax on cosmetics, leather goods and telephone service were for — to help the war effort.

But it apparently was not what federal legislators thought about these taxes, which they now have clung to jealously for nearly a quarter of a century.

Curtailment of "luxury" spending long since made no sense. Congress has thought only of the revenue the taxes produced. It has abandoned all pretense of logic and concentrated on loot.

Telephone service, for example, is no luxury in this era of universal communication. The telephone is an indispensable tool of commerce.

There is no logic in continuing a tax intended originally to discourage the use of telephones at a time when telephone companies are promoting their use in ways not yet dreamed of when the 10 per cent tax was imposed.

This is no trifling item. In this state alone, Ohio Bell collected $32 million in excise taxes in 1964 — an average of $17.52 from each of 1,872,000 customers.

President Johnson is on record in opposition to continuing an excise tax structure jerry-built during wartime and still in existence. The structure is out of keeping with his belief that the tax structure should help productive enterprise, not hinder it.

Rustlings

By Truman Twill

A month from now the vernal equinox will occur.

Young men's and old men's fancies will lightly turn to thoughts of spring.

Actually, the first rustlings of spring do not wait on the vernal equinox.

They happen when the cardinals sit in the tops of ancient oaks and whistle for joy.

They are the squish of turf when it has been thawed a quarter of an inch by the noonday sun blazing through a clear sky.

The color of the new growth on the ends of gnarled willow branches jutting out from trunks that have been gaining girth for generations.

The first mention of new license plates for autos, the first sight of baseball players posing for gag shots, the first crackling information that a star player has signed up to play a game for a king's ransom.

The stepping-up of worry about whether Junior's grades are good enough to qualify him as a college freshman when the time comes.

The first thought of a forthcoming graduation, and the first tentative exploration of vacation preferences for forthcoming excursions into bankruptcy.

Wondering about the power lawn mower and whether it should have been wintered in a more favorable environment.

Thinking about grass seed and transplanting trees and what kind of flowers would look pretty in a flower garden.

Giving a passing thought to screens that disintegrated last summer.

Skunk cabbages pushing up through a marshy ground and hyacinths blooming in decorated pots.

Hearing from displaced persons who have fled to Florida to meet the sun coming north and taking note of robins in wooded areas along the highways.

A certain restlessness in housewives who mutter about repainting, new draperies and doing something drastic about the eyesore that yesterday was an object of art.

The way school boys and girls saunter instead of plod on their way to and from school, speculation about the probable winners of basketball tournaments, stretches of disintegrated black-top roads destroyed by freezing and thawing;

A certain way the sun glints off rooftops in the morning and the lingering daylight in the late afternoon;

The knowledge that the Republic has paid its respects once more to St. Valentine, Honest Abe and Truthful George;

Admiring glances at new cars parked along the curb, new clothes in display windows, travel ads in the glossy magazines;

Tiring TV shows on the luminescent tube, rumors of satisfactory shows marked for The Kill when the reruns start, tiring overshoes ready for the trash can, winter clothes overdue for the cleaners—

And a general feeling that if winter has come and started to go spring can't be far behind.

Boss Of The 'Common Laborers'

By Victor Riesel

It must be reported that the leader of America's "common laborers" has not suffered at their calloused and proletarian hands.

Victor Riesel

Few know his name, but they have provided him with headquarters, and pay him more than $1,000 a week as a token of a man's status in a new society.

His name, unfamiliar to the younger generation, is Joseph Moreschi, a shaggy sort of fellow who lives in a Southwestern United States Shangri-la far from the national office of the Hod Carriers', Building and Common Laborers Union which he heads.

He is deep in his 80s and has been the union's general president since Calvin Coolidge's days — Sept. 17, 1926, to be exact.

Mr. Moreschi comes in mostly for occasional board meetings and so manages to keep in good trim. The job may yet prove permanent.

HOWEVER, if Mr. Moreschi does decide to take advantage of his rights to comparatively early retirement he'll leave the union in many strong and well paid hands.

There are a string of officers whom the common laborers' union pays anywhere from $66,000 a year down to a rather common $30,000. One executive officer draws more than $55,000 in salary and expenses.

Few know much about this 400,000-member AFL-CIO union, without whose members the $60 billion construction industry could hardly function, and few have bothered to look into it in recent years. The last outcry came many years ago when it was revealed that the union had not held a national convention for three decades.

Now all this swings back into the news because the national AFL - CIO executive council, American labor's high command, is gathered in Bal Harbour, Fla. for its mid-winter session. The Hod Carriers fraternity is the sort of enclosed empire which has stirred the passions of a few national labor policy makers.

THOUGH THIS is one of the land's major unions, the Hod Carriers participate in mighty little civic activity and even fewer educational pursuits.

This dinosaurian union whips up a primordial image which the labor leaders now want to wipe out as quickly as possible. The pachyderms of a past age are about to be told their day is gone.

Actually, Mr. Moreschi is not a member of the AFL-CIO high command council. But many of his ancient friends — out of an antique era — are on that policy making board which speaks for 13 million workers. Their unions have strong influence in national, political, industrial and even financial circles.

Some of these throwbacks will go quietly from the council. Some will be quietly thrown out.

Of the 29 council members, five no longer lead the unions they're allegedly representing. Some of these five live in Florida or in homes hundreds of miles from their national headquarters.

TYPICAL is Bill McFetridge —once leader of the Building Service Employes Union in the "old" Chicago days. He no longer leads his big international union. But he still sits in the high council.

The actual leadership of his union is in the hands of a much younger man, Dave Sullivan, the first labor man to be chosen grand marshal of New York's huge St. Patrick's Day parade.

Mr. Sullivan will replace the forensic Mr. McFetridge during the current high command session. Thus history will be made quietly.

There are many who believe Mr. Sullivan is being groomed eventually to succeed AFL-CIO president George Meany. This would make Mr. Sullivan one of America's — and the world's— most influential men.

THERE WILL BE no accompanying clamor as the guard changes in the next few weeks. The headlines will be made by the prodding of President Johnsor with Executive Council resolutions demanding movement towards a shorter work week, a national minimum wage of $80 a week, and more billions for the anti-poverty drive.

But while news makes the headlines, headlines do not always make the news.

The big story is the passing of the pachyderms and revitalizing of labor's high command for new national organizing campaigns.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — "Hoop" Nesselrode scored 15 points as the East Liverpool High School basketball team defeated East Palestine, 36-23.

Pupils of the MacDonald school in Wellsville presented an operetta, "The Magic Beanstalk," under the direction of Howard O. Spiller.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Mrs. Maryhester McIntyre was named president of the Coterie Club.

Mrs. Elmer Eppley was elected superintendent of the Sunday School department of the Chester Methodist Church, filling the unexpired term of the late E. A. Durbin who held the office for 30 years.

A card system was set up for the new garbage collection plan which was to be inaugurated March 1 in Wellsville for a trial period of six months.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mary Anne Piatt of Wellsville, a fifth-grade student at Garfield School, received a letter from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower thanking her for a spring hat, made by her mother, which Mary Anne had sent to the first lady.

Mrs. Mary R. Blumberg of W. 4th St. conducted a "one-woman polio fund drive" and turned over $353 in the campaign here.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We wish to thank the East Liverpool city firemen for the wonderful job they did last Saturday evening on the fire we had in our home.

Their thoughtfulness in saving our kitchen appliances and protecting the rest of our home will not be soon forgotten.

Although we were away at the time, our neighbors gave us all the details of how quickly the firemen worked and how hard they worked in keeping water out of the rest of our home.

Thanks again for the wonderful service.

The Zuni Indians elect tribal officials for two-year terms, thus giving the officials a chance to establish a record in office. Most pueblo Indians elect their officials for one - year terms.

A freak cypress forest in California and a habitat of rare lizards in Colorado are among the first tracts of public land to be set aside as scientific sanctuaries by the Interior Department.

Most forest fires in the United States are caused by incendiarists, debris burners and careless smokers, in that order.

International Morality

By David Lawrence

It Has Made Little Progress

The world is told by Moscow dispatches that Soviet military aid now is on the way to North Viet Nam and that it includes ground-to-air missiles, jet fighters and technical advisers.

David Lawrence

The Soviet government claims that the assistance is being given at the invitation of the North Viet Nam regime. The United States justifies its aid to South Viet Nam with the argument that military forces and supplies have been sent at the request of the South Viet Nam government.

The Soviet move is aimed directly at an American Army of more than 24,000 troops in South Viet Nam which has suffered several hundred casualties in the last two years. Yet there is no sign that the United States government or any of its allies will object to what the Soviets are doing.

If the United States, on the other hand, were to begin furnishing arms and ammunition for the use of underground groups in Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania or any of the other "captive" countries now under Communist control, this would doubtless be called an act of war and an aggression.

IT LOOKS as if what the Soviet government is doing will not be challenged in the court of public opinion or anywhere else by the U.S. administration. The policy thus far has been one of buttering up the Moscow government with promises of expansion of trade, perhaps more financial credits and proposals for exchanges or visits between the leaders of Russia and President Johnson.

The root of the whole trouble is that neither South Viet Nam nor North Viet Nam is capable today of self-government. The frequent changes in the top posts in South Viet Nam over the last two years indicate that a group of responsible leaders has not yet emerged.

Theoretically, the United Nations is comprised of 114 free and equal nations, but actually most of them are not free and very few of the new members could be regarded as having achieved a position of responsibility or capability in carrying on their own affairs.

The principle of self-determination of peoples was widely proclaimed as a new ideal back in 1919 when the League of Nations was founded and undertook to help backward nations by establishing supervisory trusteeships. This privilege was abused as business interests practically took over some of the smaller ships prevailed.

THE FACT is that no way has been devised as yet actually to train a nation for self-government. It's often said that British colonial rule did a better job than any other system in preparing backward nations for self-government and in many respects this is true. In those parts of Africa, however, where the French held sway for many years, most of the former colonies have not turned out to be responsible.

Southeast Asia is just another example of the failure of colonial rule to train and develop leaders for future responsibilities.

By infiltration, the Communists have not left the smaller nations alone. They are still trying to exploit them, if not always to control them politically.

One of the most flagrant examples of the indifference of the world to the proclaimed ideals of freedom and self-determination is to be found in Europe, where Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary have not really been given their independence. They are controlled directly and indirectly by Soviet military and political forces.

ANOTHER CASE in which the ideal of self-determination has been neglected is to be found in the plight of the German people. They are efficient and capable, but their country is divided into two parts—East and West Germany. One is, in effect, being governed by the Communists, while the other is struggling under a handicap to develop an important role on the continent of Europe.

Apparently a united Germany cannot be established without the consent of the Soviet government.

American help is indispensable in war, but our influence is limited in peacetime. Small wonder that George Washington in 1796 advised the newly emerging nation on this continent against entangling alliances. Up to date they have not permitted a philanthropic and altrustic country like the United States, which seeks no territory or selfish goals, to achieve its main purpose—to help all peoples to govern themselves.

Europe today is divided and torn by friction based on nationalism or selfishness and the Soviet government continues its efforts to conquer and control millions and millions of people beyond its own borders.

International morality has made little progress despite two world wars waged against autocracy.

Element Of Despair

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

A new element, despair, may become the deciding factor for the United States in Viet Nam, a country beginning to look like a comic opera.

It has cost the United States hundreds of lives and billions of dollars to back South Viet Nam in the war against the Communist guerrillas ever since 1955 when the government there asked for help.

But that government, headed by President Ngo Dinh Diem, is gone and in the 16 months since he was assassinated there have been at least eight new governments.

They actually change hands over night, as they did in the past few days. Old leaders get bounced, new leaders take over. The new leaders become the old leaders, and they get bounced.

The changes haven't come from the people but from the ambitious generals whom Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate's Democratic leader, calls the "jealous generals."

Meanwhile, there's supposed to be a war going on against the guerrillas and the United States is standing by with men, guns and planes, waiting to get on with it.

While it waits, the United States can't duck the basic question: How can it get on with the war if the Vietnamese leaders are more taken with shoving one another around than shoving the guerrillas around?

The war has been going from bad to worse, steadily, and here there is divided opinion on what to do: step up the war against the Reds, don't step it up but just go on helping the South Vietnamese, or get out.

Unless the Vietnamese begin showing an earnest interest in preventing a Communist takeover, the reaction in this country almost inevitably will be despair that the Vietnamese can be helped or are worth helping.

In getting into this fight the United States has given a couple of reasons, one idealistic — to help the Vietnamese preserve their independence, and the other realistic — to prevent communism from taking over all Southeast Asia.

But the idealistic reason will be rendered ridiculous if the Vietnamese show themselves incapable of orderly government and more concerned with factional disputes then saving themselves from communism.

And the realistic reason — using American forces to fight the guerrillas in Viet Nam — will look more and more like colonialism and aggression if the South Vietnamese themselves are indifferent about the Reds.

Mansfield said "the jealous generals of Saigon should realize that the hour is very late.

"The United States is committed to aid the people of Viet Nam. It is not committed to continued subsidy of intramilitary struggles for power and prestige with American lives and resources."

There is a view that the United States should step up the war against the Reds, if necessary, to show them this country won't yield and, when this has been done, work out a settlement with them.

But even if the United States tried that it could not escape this bitter thought if there is no stability in South Viet Nam:

If a settlement is worked out with the Reds it can only mean an eventual Communist takeover if South Viet Nam disintegrates further and no real government is possible there.

Parking Site Appraisal Set

Jefferson St.; a tract adjoining the metered city lot on the north side of W. 6th St., opposite City Hall; about a half a dozen buildings in the rear of the present Ceramic Lot on E. 4th St., and a vacant lot at W. 7th and Jackson Sts.

Cooper pointed out the city has the power to appropriate property for parking purposes—exercising the right of eminent domain. In that procedure, a court fixes the value of the property to be acquired.

Hancock replied that the price set by the court still might be beyond the city's reach. He asked Cooper "how far can the city go financially in acquiring lots?

Cooper replied that the purchases are financed by general obligation bonds supported by the revenue of the lots and to the extent that the meter fees retire the principal and interest, the bonds are not chargeable against the city's debt ceiling.

HE SAID he feels the city could invest at least $75,000 more in parking sites before reaching the saturation point where the lots would not be self-supporting. He pointed out adequate revenue has been received so far from three tracts which the city acquired and converted to parking.

Ralph Finley of the Smith & Phillips Co. said the ELMA committee recommended acquisition of three additional sites: The property at the rear of the present Ceramic Lot; the Hazel Laughlin site on W. 5th St. and the tract adjoining the metered lot opposite City Hall.

In response to a query, Cooper said appraisals of the various properties could be completed within two weeks.

Hancock told the ELMA delegation that "we are not just sitting around; we are not blind to the problem."

—:—

BUT HE ADDED that Council must consider the question thoroughly and "we are not going to buy a lot tomorrow or next week." He said parking is only one of the problems Council faces.

But Hancock added that "there is no doubt in my mind that eventually we will buy two or three lots."

Cunningham said he feels the $36,000 price quoted for the Laughlin property "is too much." He said he does not believe either a private interest or the city would pay that much for the tract. He indicated he favors expansion of the present Ceramic Lot if property can be acquired reasonably.

Thompson offered the two adjoining E. 3rd St. tracts to Council in separate proposals last fall and winter.

THEY ARE the former Orthodox Jewish Synagogue and adjoining residential property. Each tract is 30-x-130. He offered to sell the former synagogue property for $8,500 or lease it for five years at $65 monthly with an option to buy.

He quoted a price of $10,000 for the adjoining property, which is occupied by two frame homes. Thompson said the price would represent a loss of $1,700 to him, but he is willing to take the loss because of his interest in providing additional parking space in the downtown area.

The Laughlin property is 40-x-130 feet, situated on the south side of W. 5th St. just east of Jackson. It also is occupied by two frame homes. The land was offered to the city by the First National Bank as executor of the estate.

MURRAY TOLD the merchants last night if a new Post Office is built on W. 7th St., there will be an additional need for parking in the area. For that reason, the tract on W. 6th St. between Jefferson and Jackson Sts. might prove desirable, he said. He also remarked that several new buildings have been erected in the general area in recent years, notably to house physician's offices.

The businessmen asserted unanimously to Council that they are receiving more and more customer complaints on lack of parking space. They said the comments hit their height during the Christmas shopping rush, but have continued since.

Harold Allison of the Frank Crook Co. declared that the need "is urgent." "I feel we have to start action soon," he said, declaring that the number of parking spaces has not kept pace with the growing influx of autos in the business area.

Allen asserted that the city "is five years behind now in parking."

"This is of grave concern to us," Finley remarked. "It affects our livelihood." He reiterated that the downtown area, with 1,700 workers, is the largest employer inside the city limits.

—:—

WILLIAM D. OGILVIE of D. M. Ogilvie & Co. pointed out that "new highways are making it easier to get into East Liverpool" and added that the city should take steps to make it easier for visitors and patrons to park once they arrive.

Allison remarked that the new highways also "make it easier to get out of East Liverpool."

Don Eckert, a merchant and chairman of the City Planning Commission, was asked by Murray if the "master plan" now being prepared for the city would be upset if the city proceeded on its own to acquire parking tracts.

Eckert replied that the engineering firm preparing the plan recognizes that the need for lots exists now and feels that the city should go ahead. Existing lots can be incorporated into the "master plan," he added.

The meeting ended with the agreement to meet again in mid-March after Council has received and discussed the appraisal figures.

Red German Chief Opens Nasser Visit

CAIRO (AP) — East German President Walter Ulbricht arrived in Egypt today for a one-week visit that could lead to a diplomatic breach between West Germany and much of the Arab world.

Warships blew their sirens and Soviet-built MIG fighters screamed overhead as Ulbricht descended the gangplank of the East German liner Voelkerfreundschaft in Alexandria for a greeting from Vice President Hassan Ibrahim.

"Welcome Ulbricht" and "Man of peace", chanted masses of workers assembled along the waterfront.

Ulbricht and Ibrahim walked on a red carpet to the nearby railroad station and boarded a special train for Cairo, where President Gamal Abdel Nasser had prepared a festive welcome for the East German Communist leader.

East German flags fluttered over Cairo and the emblem of the Communist regime decorated the Cairo railroad station.

Nasser scheduled a banquet tonight in Ulbricht's honor. Official talks between the two leaders start Thursday.

Ulbricht's schedule calls for three formal conferences with Nasser, two official banquets, speeches and trips to the Aswan Dam, Luxor, Liberation Province and the Shebin El Kom textiles center built by the East Germans.

The Egyptians greeted Ulbricht with the 21-gun salute normal for heads of state.

The West German government had implied it would break off diplomatic relations with Nasser's United Arab Republic if Ulbricht was received as a head of state. Bonn also threatened to cut off its multimillion-dollar economic aid program in Egypt.

7 New Members Inducted At Wellsville Jaycee Event

Seven new members were inducted at a meeting of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the SOI Hotel. Twenty attended.

The new members are Wilber Jones, Pat Creaturo, Frank Luckino, Bill Hickman, Dan Saracco, Ed Bauer and Ed Stone.

Bill Miller, president, conducted business. Jerry Russell, chaplain, gave the invocation.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis spoke on the city's water system, pointing out the serious condition that could arise if the main line should break. The city is dependent on one main that feeds from the reservoir.

A discussion followed and will be continued at the next meeting.

Russell and Ralph Fusco reported on the state Junior Miss pageant at Xenia. Wellsville sponsored a contestant. The group voted to renew the franchise for Columbiana County next year.

A report was heard on the annual basketball tournament slated March 29-April 3. Teams interested in participating may contact Jack Call, Frank Fusco or Nunzio S. Lombardozzi.

Ralph Fusco, Teen - Age Road - E - O chairman, said the parking lot of Mason's super-market will be used this year. The date will be announced later.

Hickman and Bauer are checking the possibility of sponsoring junior sporting events.

Ralph Fusco was presented an award as the "Outstanding Jaycee" for January.

Gale Boggs was named chairman and Jones, co-chairman, for the annual scholastic awards banquet.

The Jaycees voted to assist the Knights of Columbus in the Dollars for Scholars program. Russell will serve as Jaycee chairman.

Newell IOOF Lodge Fills Trustee's Post

Harry Hutton, vice grand, was elected three - year trustee at the meeting of Clark Odd Fellows Lodge 447 of Newell Monday night at the IOOF Temple.

The initiatory degree was discussed and William Johnson and Ernie Phillips obtained robes at Occidental Lodge 720 in Beaver for use in the degree work.

Henry Smith, noble grand, presided.

The next meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the temple.

Potter Hurt During Work

A Newell potter injured by a sagger was treated this morning at City Hospital, where three area residents were treated Tuesday after mishaps.

Allison Peters, 64, of Newell, employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co., suffered a laceration of the scalp when a sagger fell and struck him on the head at work.

William Earl Goddard, 41, of 834 Neptune Ave., Chester, employe of the New Castle Refractories, received a fracture and laceration of the left index finger on which a piece of steel fell at work.

Woodrow Wilson Croy, 48, of Railroad St. suffered injuries to the right hand and fingers on a cart handle at the American Vitrified Products Co.

Amy Suzanne Bloor, 12, daughter of Howard Bloor of Lisbon St., received injuries to the left hand and wrist in a fall.

More Cigarettes

ATHENS (AP) — Greeks smoked more cigarettes last year than ever before. The Finance Ministry said 13,516,183 kilograms of tobacco were used in the production of Greek cigarettes, 199,211 kilograms more than in 1963.

Bank Teller In First Day Faced Robber

CLEVELAND (AP) — Theodore Karle, working his first day as a bank teller, had to deal with a holdup man Tuesday.

The robber escaped with $4,493 from the branch bank of the Central National Bank at 6610 Detroit Ave. NW. After approaching Robert P. Bittel, manager of the branch, holding his hand in a brown paper bag as if concealing a gun.

Bittel walked behind the counter and told Karle to fill a cloth bag handed him by the robber. So Karle put money from a cash drawer into the bag and the robber left.

'Cache' Theft Of $35,000 Without Clues

STEUBENVILLE — No clues have been turned up by Steubenville police and federal authorities in the theft of $35,000 from the rumble seat of a steelworker's auto here almost three weeks ago.

The money belonged to Robert Bridges, 57, who works at the Weirton Steel Co. and used the car as a "bank" for his savings. It was reported stolen Feb. 6, but police asked the report not be publicized so as not to interfere with the investigation.

Since no clues have turned up, authorities released the report. Bridges, a bachelor, said that a window of the car, parked in his garage, had been pried open to gain entrance.

He told authorities he began putting the bills in a paper sack in 1941. He cached it in the rumble seat of the 1938 Cadillac.

The money was rolled up in a hard ball about the size of a football. The last "deposit" he made was $500 about Christmas time in 1964, he said.

Bridges said he checked the money every morning before leaving for work and again upon returning home. The car had not been driven for several years.

Police believe someone must have watched him for a long period and knew his habits.

The FBI and Interal Revenue Service are aiding in the investigation.

Boat Course Set By Coast Guard Auxiliary Group

Final plans have been made for a Coast Guard Auxiliary public course on safe boating to start March 2 and continue weekly for two months at the Red Cross offices at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

The sessions will be held each Tuesday night at 7:30.

Otis Weekley has been appointed safety patrol committee chairman for Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 77, sponsoring the course.

Arrangements for supervising safety patrols and regatta patrols have been discussed with the flotilla by Frederick Alston of Pittsburgh, district officer.

Any group planning regattas or races in the area has been requested to contact Weekley at least 60 days prior to the scheduled event. All such events must be approved by the U. S. Coast Guard, flotilla officials said.

The unit met Tuesday night with Charles Stone of Russell Heights, Wellsville.

Red Cross Fund Chairman Picked For Wellsville

Arthur L. Montgomery, co-owner of the A. & M. Family Shoe Store, 460 Main St., has been named chairman of the annual Red Cross Fund drive for Wellsville.

The campaign opens Monday and continues the entire month of March, with a goal of $2,602.

Montgomery's appointment was announced today by the Board of Directors. Jack Lanam is chairman of the chapter.

Montgomery resides on Center St., Glenmoor. An Army veteran of World War II, he is married and has two sons and a daughter. He was employed for 15 years by the Siff Shoe Co.

Plans for the drive will be formulated at meetings this week. Co-chairmen and division captains will be named later.

Burglary

breaking and saw men in the service station. Officers alleged Hunt was carrying a loaded German P-38 pistol of World War II vintage.

Meanwhile, County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon Tuesday granted a continuance until Friday at 2 p. m. in a preliminary hearing for Hawk alleging that he robbed a Wellsville market of $90 on Feb. 17.

The charge, filed by Chief John Hephner of Wellsville, alleges Hawk robbed Robert Freeman, 906 Wood St., at Betty's Market. Hawk was linked to the Wellsville stickup after his arrest here in the alleged burglary.

Grated Parmesan cheese added to seasoned flour makes an excellent coating for chicken that is to be oven-fried.

Wellsville American Legion Told Of County Dinner Plans

Dean Wright of Salineville, vice commander of the Columbiana County American Legion Council, reported on plans for its annual anniversary banquet at a meeting of Wellsville Post 70 Monday night.

The banquet will be held March 13 at 6 p. m. at Post 374 in East Liverpool. Vernon Allen, state commander, will be the guest speaker. Reservations are due by March 6.

Wright also said high school boys who will attend Boys State and those who attended last year will meet May 2 at the Lisbon post.

Sam Maylone, commander, conducted business. A "come-as-you-are" dance and surprise party will be held at the post home Saturday night with the Blue Shades providing the music.

All new members signed the past year will be obligated at a ceremony March 20 at 7 p.m. A cocktail hour will be held at 9, followed by a dance at 10.

Ralph Kelley said his committee is working on a life membership plans, which will be announced later. He is being aided by Harry Crawford and Francis House.

Robert Williams was accepted as a new member. Maylone reported on a letter received from the office of President Lyndon B. Johnson on the proposed closing of veterans hospitals.

The Legion and the auxiliary have ordered four dozen folding chairs. An Ohio Highway Patrol safety film will be screened at a joint meeting with the auxiliary March 8. The regular business meeting will be held first and the movie is scheduled for 9 p. m. The public will be invited.

Daun Gitschier, ways and means chairman, said several projects are being considered.

Fire

the building as a radio repair shop. He told firemen the stove was new. It apparently became overheated and exploded, spraying kerosene over the interior.

Goddard was inside at the time, according to firemen, but escaped unharmed.

The entire building was in flames when firemen arrived.

The damage was estimated at $900, including $300 to the building and $600 to the contents, which included testing equipment.

While firemen were fighting this blaze, a false alarm was turned in from an alarm box at E. 5th and College Sts.

The floor at the home of Richard Manypenny, 2029 St. Clair Ave., was damaged by fire apparently caused from an open fire place in another blaze Tuesday at 6:42 p. m.

The home is owned by Floyd Kerr. Firemen said the fire was in the flooring beneath the fire place.

A hole was cut in the subflooring from the basement to get at the burning area. The North Side truck responded to the call. The blaze was confined to the floor. No estimate was made of damages.

Crash Damages Cars Near Scene Of Blaze

Two cars were damaged in a collision Tuesday at 5:35 p. m. at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves., near the scene of a fire, police reported.

Involved were a 1964 sedan driven by Richard Lee Andrason, 20, of 1645 Cleveland Ave. and a 1961 sedan operated by Marlene Faye Sell, 26, of 900 Locust St.

Andrason said he was pulling out of a traffic lane to make a turn because a fire hose was laid across the street. As he pulled out of the traffic lane, his car was hit by the woman's auto, approaching from the rear, he said.

The woman told police she had passed a vehicle which was being parked and had pulled back into the right lane when her car was hit by Andrason's.

Activities Aired By Choir Parents

Spring activities were discussed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Choir Parents Tuesday night in the choir room of the Memorial Auditorium. George Smurthwaite, president, presided.

A rummage sale will be conducted Monday through March 6 at the Rapport Building, with Mrs. Grace Lawrence chairman. Items for sale may be brought to the building Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m.

A tag day was set April 10 and a chairman will be announced later.

Senior choir members will be honored at a dinner and theater party, set tentatively for May 22.

Robert L. Shankovich, choir director, gave a report on the choir rehearsal held Saturday in preparation for the annual Columbiana County Music Festival Friday at 8 p. m. at the Memorial Auditorium.

Mrs. Robert Duffy reported on membership. The next meeting will be held March 30.

Youths Get Probation In Curb Meter Rifling

Three East Liverpool area youths, 15 to 17, were placed on probation to their parents by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon Tuesday after they admitted rifling parking meters in East Liverpool.

The youths also were placed on a 7 p.m. curfew for three months and told to make $125 restitution. They were told to report each week to their probation officer.

The folks living in Mud Lick, Ky., Hominy Falls, W. Va., and Honey Grove, Pa., all have a fourth-class Post Office.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Barbara C. Cooke, 29, widow of popular singer Sam Cooke, Tuesday was appointed administratrix of her husband's estate, said to consist of $9,000 in personal property and $50,000 a year in record royalties.

Cooke, 32, was shot and killed last Dec. 4 as he tried to break into the office of a woman motel operator. The shooting was ruled justifiable homicide.

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Jackie Mason has filed a $3-million libel and slander suit against Ed Sullivan and Robert Precht, producer of Sullivan's television show.

Mason said in papers in State Supreme Court Tuesday that Sullivan claimed that the comedian made obscene gestures on the program last Oct. 18. This was false and untrue, Mason claimed.

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Institute of Arts and Letters has named Walter Lippmann, 75, author and columnist, winner of a gold medal for essays and criticism.

The institute also announced Tuesday its gold medal for painting would go to Andrew Wyeth, 48, realist painter of the American scene.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Johnson, the President's 17-year-old daughter was impressed Tuesday by the painting ability of Senake Senanayake, 13, a visiting artist from Ceylon.

Judge Orders Escape Artist Be Shackled

CLEVELAND (AP) — Alfred Oponowicz, who twice has escaped from Lima State Hospital, has been sent there again, but this time the judge specified that the escape artist must remain shackled during his 30-day examination period.

Oponowicz, 38, was wounded in a gun battle with Secret Service men in Lake County last month but overpowered a guard in his hospital room to escape from Lake County Memorial Hospital at Painesville. He was to stand trial here for an attempted bank burglary, a charge dating back to 1962, but his attorney asked for a psychiatric test because he said he was unable to communicate with Oponowicz.

The little American box turtle may live to be about 120.

Convicted Slayer's Hearing To Resume

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A habeas corpus hearing for Homer J. (Jack) Dean, whose conviction for first-degree murder has been taken in and out of the courts for more than a decade, resumes here today with more testimony on tap.

Five witnesses testified Tuesday before U. S. Judge Mell G. Underwood.

Dean, serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary, was convicted Oct. 18, 1950 in the slaying of Elmo C. Rice, a suburban Clintonville real estate dealer whose body was found on a bridge near here Dec. 10, 1947.

MISS ELAINE GARVER
She'll Set Wedding Date.

Elaine Garver Is Betrothed To L. A. Drane Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving F. Garver, 833 Bradshaw Ave., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elaine Louise Garver, to Lawrence A. Drane Jr., son of Mrs. Lawrence A. Drane of the Old Fredericktown Rd., Calcutta.

Miss Garver is a senior in East Liverpool High School. She plans to attend IBM School in Youngstown in the summer.

Her fiance is a 1964 graduate of Beaver Local High School and is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Judy L. Kapp Weds Vance Adams At Lisbon

Miss Judy Louise Kapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Kapp of Kelly Ave., became the bride of Vance Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eaholtz of Lisbon, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses at Lisbon.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by Frank Doud, minister, in the presence of the immediate families. Baskets of white gladiolus, mums and roses formed the setting.

The bride wore a white silk brocade suit with matching hat and veil. Her amethyst pendant necklace was the gift of the bridegroom. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shreve were the attendants. The matron of honor was attired in a blue wool suit with matching accessories and orchid corsage.

The mother of the bride chose a muted blue-green, print sheath and the bridegroom's mother, a blue lace dress. White accessories and orchid corsages complemented their attire.

A reception for 40 followed at the home of the bride's parents. The buffet table was centered with a wedding cake, topped with bells, and flanked by bouquets of roses and heather. Streamers and wedding bells completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. Jean Forester and Mrs. Dorothy Schlott.

Guests were from Wooster, Canton, Painesville and Cincinnati.

For her honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride wore a black and white wool suit with matching accessories and her bridal orchid.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture. Her husband was graduated from David Anderson High School at Lisbon.

The newlyweds are employed at the Carl Co. at Lisbon, the bride as a secretary and the bridegroom, as a printer. They are residing in a newly furnished apartment at Lisbon.

'Celebrity Auction' Slated For Newell Women's Club

Plans for a "Celebrity Auction" were discussed at the meeting of the Newell Women's Club Monday night at the American Legion home. It will be held during the meeting March 22. Personal gifts have been received from several well-known figures of the entertainment world including David Brinkley, Arthur Godfrey, Danny Kaye, Hayley Mills, Bess Myerson, Sterling Yates, Stan Scott, Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle.

The project has been planned by the cancer and program committee for benefit of the Cancer Fund drive that will be held in April.

Mrs. Ronald Eckleberry, president, presided for business.

Devotions were led by Mrs. John Robison and the club creed was read in unison.

Mrs. Helen Doane was named representative to the Newell Civic Council. Mrs. George Cawthon and Miss Betty Buben also represent the club, each holding an office.

Mrs. Basil Mangano, a member of the mental health committee, reported that the B'nai B'rith Lodge of Weirton is making plans for a fund drive May 16. At present, time there is an out-patient service at Weirton General Hospital and proceeds of this drive will enable the Hancock County Mental Health Society to continue this service.

Volunteers are being recruited in other organizations to canvass Newell.

Mrs. Albert Logston, Hancock County school nurse, reported on the activities of the Help A Child to Health Council, a group formed by the Women's Club to provide emergency medical and dental care for school children in northern Hancock County. Civic groups of Chester and Newell contribute funds and representatives for this work.

Named to the nominating committee were Mrs. George Gogol, Mrs. Robison, Mrs. Richard Brenneman, Mrs. J. Fred Allison and Mrs. Clarence Nease.

Mrs. Ed Fahnert reported plans have been completed for the public card party and hat style show to be held Friday at 8 o'clock in the Legion home.

There was a display of hobbies by several members who spoke on them.

Novelty pins, mobiles, rare books, jewelry, silver spoons and stone jewelry was displayed.

Mrs. Robison was in charge of the program.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table, using a patriotic theme, by Mrs. Robison, Mrs. Tony LaNeve, and Mrs. Virgil Grimm, hostesses.

Next meeting will be held March 8 at the Legion home.

YOU CAN EXTEND a helping hand from now through March 12 to the East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls by making a purchase during their annual candy sale now under way. Among those taking part in the door-to-door solicitation are Janet Porter, standing, and Nancy Birnbaum. They are students at Taft School. The proceeds will be used to support the summer camping program at Echo Dell and for other projects.

'Day Apart' Set At Jewett For District WSCS

The annual "Day Apart" service of the Steubenville District of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will be held Monday at Jewett.

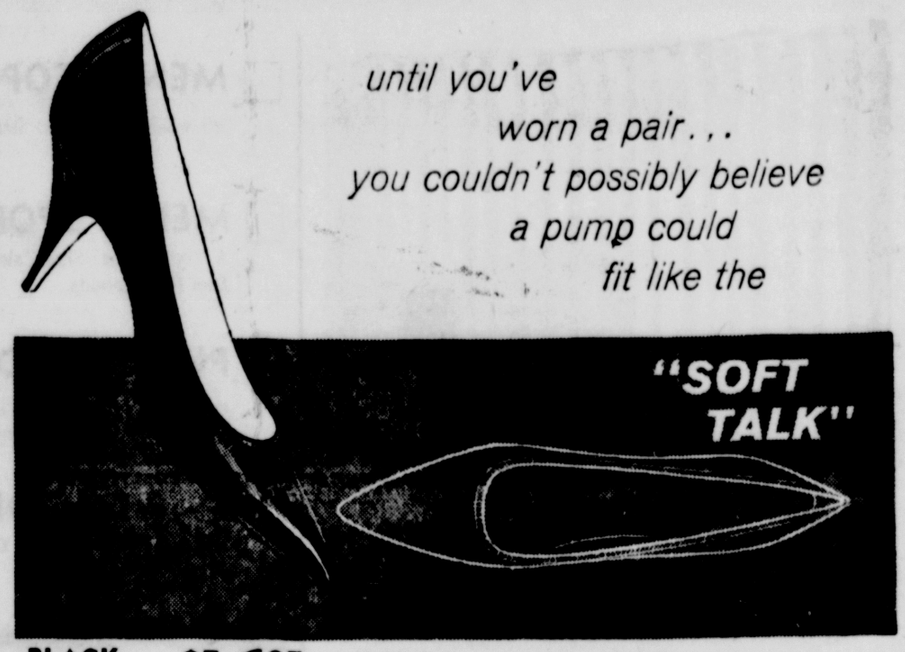

Mrs. M. A. Figg, former spiritual life secretary of the Northeast Ohio Conference, will be guest speaker. Her husband is pastor of the Goodyear Heights Methodist Church of Akron and former minister of the Brilliant and Carrollton churches of the Steubenville District.

She is leader of retreats for the Order of St. Luke and the Disciplined Order of Christ. She has also served as leader of the Retreat House at Shady Rest, Mentor.

Session will begin at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and close at 2 in the afternoon. No reservations are necessary as a sack lunch will be featured.

Those planning to go are to take their Bibles.

VFW Auxiliary 'Birthday' Marked By Dinner-Dance

The 45th birthday anniversary of the auxiliary of VFW Post 6 was observed with a dinner-dance Sunday night. About 75 attended.

Mrs. Helen Wilson, general chairman, gave a brief history of the group, instituted Feb. 21, 1920, with 24 charter members. The only surviving charter member, Miss Alice Kinsey, was unable to attend.

She noted the post has the honor of having the first state commander, Willis Hall, and the first auxiliary president, the late Mrs. Jeannette McDonald, on the roster. The men's state group was organized locally.

The auxiliary also provided three district presidents, Mrs. Jean Ryan, Mrs. Helen Wilson and Mrs. McDonald.

Past presidents, introduced and presented corsages were Mrs. Sylvia McDonald, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Gertrude Ward, Mrs. Dorothy Hill, Mrs. Agnes Webber and Mrs. Irene Dopler, now serving a second term.

Mrs. Lillie Boggs, incumbent president of District 6, invited the group to the district sessions Saturday and Sunday at East Palestine.

William Grier, commander of the local post, introduced Melvin Boggs, state department chairman for Americanism, who told of the "Voice Of Democracy" contest sponsored for area high school students.

The memorial contribution was allocated for the City Veterans Council's permanent war memorial.

Mrs. Dopler presided with Mrs. Ward, chaplain, giving the invocation and Dave Anderson, post chaplain, the benediction.

A red, white and blue theme predominated in table decorations with the use of streamers, carnations and lighted tapers.

The dinner was served by daughters and granddaughters of members, Josie Edgell, Glenda and Charlotte Webber, Sue Conley and Cheryll Hill.

Judge Awaits Report Prior To Sentencing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Frank M. Gusweiler is awaiting a probation report before sentencing a former state liquor store manager for embezzlement.

Eugene E. Frye, 36, pleaded guilty Tuesday after his trial had started before a jury. He was accused of taking $2,313 and 474 bottles of liquor from the store in suburban Deer Park.

Beauceant Unit Dinner Honors Charter Group

Charter members were honored at the birthday coverdish dinner meeting of Social Order of Beauceant Assembly 71 Monday night at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Eric Young, president, presented gifts to charter members present, Mrs. Albert McLain, Mrs. William Kress, Mrs. Grant Smith, Mrs. Fred Paisley and Mrs. Charles Zeder.

In reading a brief history of the group, Mrs. Young said it was instituted in 1931 with Mrs. McLain as charter president.

Life memberships were awarded Mrs. Earl Edwards of Frazier Park, Calif., and Mrs. Paisley of Wellsville.

Mrs. John Parsons announced a rummage sale is set the week of May 2 in the Rapport Building. Mrs. Young may be called to store the items.

Plans were made to serve a dinner Saturday for the annual inspection of Pilgrim Commandery of Knights Templar at the temple.

Officers' practice will be held March 19.

A birthday theme predominated at the dinner tables with Mrs. Charles Hopper and Mrs. Young in charge of arrangements.

Lunch was served 75 following the meeting of Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Aaron Eaton. Sir Knights were guests.

Initiation of new members will be held at the next session March 22.

Dear Friends,

The present-day funeral has evolved through the years from man's instinctive desire to pay tribute to the life of a deceased person, and man's belief in a spiritual life hereafter.

It reflects our folkways and social customs, and our civic and health rules. The modern funeral symbolizes man's ideals, his hopes, his religious beliefs.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

Duo-Pianists' Concert Seen 'Demonstration Of Artistry'

By ROBERT SHANKOVICH

The second concert of the Tri-State Civic Music Series was held at Westgate auditorium Tuesday evening and in contrast to the vocal quartet of the first concert, the audience was treated to still another musical medium — the duo-piano artistry of Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz.

And artistry it was! From the initial note to the final chord, one could observe the unspoken inter - communication between the pianists. There existed a unity of thought, whether tossing phrases back and forth antiphonally or in the precise attack in simultaneous playing of chords and runs.

Apparently from their playing, the pianists demonstrate an aesthetic insight for music of all periods. Last evening's repertoire was somewhat heavy with music of the Romantic to Modern eras. Being especially mindful of today's taste, the program indicates careful consideration of what most audiences like to hear, treading lightly on contemporary grounds.

The first selection was a Sicilienne by Bach. It is characteriszed by a charming melody (originally written for flute) and a flowing accompaniment underneath. Second was Variations on a Theme by Beethoven, by Saint-Saens.

Each variation of the theme, a little piece in itself, involves some alteration of melody, harmony or figuration while simulating different styles. The duo- and brilliance, and the tone was never brittle, even at the strongest forte indications. Following were pieces from Bartok's Mikrokosmos (Little World) a six-volume opus intended as lesson pieces for children.

The rhythmic vitality of the excerpts played appeal to the inherent rhythmic appreciation of every concertgoer. Rondo in C major by Chopin closed the first half of the concert. This is the only work Chopin composed for two pianos; he composed it at the young age of 19. The idiom is unmistakably Chopin showing the nationalistic qualities which flavor his music. This selection evoked hearty applause from the audience which until that point seemed rather slow to warm up.

After intermission, Stecher and Horowitz played five Brahms waltzes. These waltzes were literally made for the piano, and the artists' rendition of them almost made it seem that the piano was invented for these waltzes. Brahms composed most of his work at the piano; his larger instrumental forms were often played as twin - piano arrangements before they were orchestrated.

Another Rondo, this one by Tcherepnin was a flashy, highly dramatic composition. "L'Embarquement Pour Cythere," by Poulenc, provided charm and sophistication spiced with a dash of musical humor. This late French composer mixes conventionally unrelated tones so softly that dissonance becomes consonance. The Scaramouche Suite by another French composer, Milhaud, ended the concert. This is a set of three very quick pieces bordering on jazz idioms.

Stecher and Horowitz answered the final applause with encores including compositions of Bizet, Liszt and Bach.

Worthy of mention is another avid interest of our visiting artists — that of teaching music. These native New Yorkers recently opened a School of Music in an endeavor to develop the musical tastes and talents of their home community. Their sincerity in this endeavor in our community is shown by the concert which they presented for Westgate students yesterday afternoon. Their warm, friendly manner was quickly recognized by the young, receptive audience, as was also the case with last night's adult audience.

It would not be an understatement to say that the performers demonstrated the subtlety and versatility of the piano, and at the same time, permitted the instrument its nobility.

The next Civic Concert scheduled March 25 will feature the Allegro American Ballet.

Rep. Wetzel Bill Aims To Clarify Appeal On Taxes

By WILLIAM S. VANCE

Review Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS — Bills dealing with tax appeals and Christmas tree haulers were introduced in the Ohio House Tuesday afternoon by Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana.

Wetzel and Rep. G. D. Tablack, D-Mahoning, co-sponsored legislation to clarify the right of a public library to appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals from decisions of the County Budget Commission on distribution of classified property taxes.

Libraries now exercise this right of appeal, said Wetzel, but the authority is not clear under existing law.

The other bill would require truckers hauling Christmas trees to carry an invoice.

Wetzel said existing law permits Christmas tree hauling only if the trucker has a bill of sale. He said this bill is designed for Ohioans who grow trees and want to haul them to where they intend to sell them.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Heights PTA Hears Judge

Judge Louis Tobin spoke on "Juvenile Problems" at the meeting of the Pleasant Heights Parent - Teacher Association Monday night at the school. There were 60 present.

Following the talk, a male quartet from the First Baptist Church, led by Don Schussler, sang several selections. Other members of the quartet were Robert Kittridge, Richard Kittridge and Charles Beaver.

Mrs. Karla Barrett, ways and means chairman, announced plans for fund - raising projects, including a skating party at the KayBee Roller Arena March 9, from 7-10 p.m., and the annual carnival, to be held at the school on Friday, April 2. Mrs. Barrett said volunteers are needed to help with the carnival.

Fifth grade parents were honored, and the third grade won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Roy Allen, Mrs. Kenny Montgomery and Mrs. Jesse Boyd.

Members voted to allot $25 for the purchase of rhythm band instruments for the school.

Mrs. Barbara Sisley, Mothers Club president, announced that the next meeting will be held March 2 at 7:30 p. m. at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Miss Judy Kozar, home economist for the utility, will demonstrate cooking of quick meals.

Gov. Rhodes Says Jobs Are Cure For 'Social Ills'

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)— Ohio's Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes told the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's Association Tuesday night that employment is the cure for today's "epidemic of social ills."

Addressing the group at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel here, Gov. Rhodes said "no matter what his race or color, if you provide a man with a good job you have gone most of the distance in solving his problems in today's complex society."

Rhodes denied trying to entice Pennsylvania industry to Ohio, saying Ohio wants to build up home industry and then "extend a welcome to manufacturers elsewhere in the country" who want to be closer to their markets.

He said he spends much of his time encouraging manufacturers to expand in Ohio and tries to get all levels of government "to provide the proper attitude toward industry and the proper climate in which it can grow."

Young people enter the job market at a rate of 1,000 a week, Rhodes said, and "only industry is kept healthy enough to do it."

Potters, Wellsville Paired In Sectional Tournament

Beaver Local Bows Out In First Tourney Start, 65-60

3 Tilts Set Tuesday On Arena Floor

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool and Wellsville, a couple of backyard rivals that met twice in the regular season, were paired in one of three opening round games in the Sectional Class AA cage tournament set next Tuesday night at the Community Arena in Steubenville.

The Potters and Tigers were matched at drawings held Tuesday night at Steubenville when the seven schools drew for spots.

THE POTTERS will have to be cast in the favorite's role since they defeated Wellsville twice in the regular campaign, but the tourney trail has been a jinx to East Liverpool which hasn't won a post season contest in five years.

Toronto with a 9-4 record against Class AA competition was top seeded in the tourney and Coach Paul Kalivoda chose the first round bye.

In the two other contests, Steubenville Big Red was paired against Jefferson Union and Steubenville Central will meet Wintersville.

East Liverpool and Wellsville will play the final game Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. with the winner of this contest meeting the Steubenville Central - Wintersville survivor in the semi - finals Thursday night at 8:30.

—:—

BIG RED and JU are scheduled in the first game Tuesday at 6:30 followed by Central and Wintersville at 8 p. m.

Toronto will play the winner of the Big Red-JU battle in the semi - finals Thursday at 7 p.m.

The finals are scheduled for Saturday at 8 p. m. The Sectional champ would then advance to the District tournament also to be played at the Community Arena.

WHILE Toronto showed the top record, East Liverpool was second seeded with its 11-7 mark but on paper the Potters loom as the tourney favorite.

East Liverpool has defeated four of the contenders. The Potters hold two decisions over Wellsville by an 89-67 verdict at East Liverpool and an 85-65 victory at Wellsville. The Blue and White defeated Toronto, 87-57, Steubenville Central, 81-67 and Big Red, 65-62.

East Liverpool has been anything but lucky in the past five seasons by being eliminated in the first round each year.

TORONTO knocked the Potters from the running last season with a 65-41 setback. The last time East Liverpool won a tournament game was 1959 with an 85-65 victory over JU.

The records of the Sectional tourney teams which only include games against Class AA opponents follow: Toronto (9-4), East Liverpool (11-7), Big Red (10-7), Wintersville (7-5), Steubenville Central (7-9), Wellsville (3-11) and JU (1-6).

Potter-Wellsville Tickets Are On Sale

An ample supply of tickets for the East Liverpool-Wellsville Sectional tournament game Tuesday at the Community Arena in Steubenville are on sale at Reese Jewelers. Adult tickets are $1 and students 50 cents. All tickets are general admission. Fans can see three games for the price of one with a tripleheader being staged Tuesday. Big Red and Jefferson Union are in the first game at 6:30 with Steubenville Central and Wintersville meeting at 8 p. m.

Maloney, Rose Sign Contracts With Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds had two more regulars under contract today for the 1965 baseball season—pitcher Jim Maloney and second baseman Pete Rose. Salaries were not announced.

The 24-year-old righthander won 15 of 25 decisions last year and had an earned run average of 2.70. Rose, 23, was the 1963 National League rookie of the year and batted .269 in 1964.

Oldest male getting a hole-in-one during 1964 was Fred Leidig, 84, of Carmel, Calif., reports Golf Digest. He made it on the 110-yard first hole at Pacific Grove Golf Club.

Beavers' Late Bid Halted

YOUNGSTOWN — Beaver Local was ushered to the sidelines early by dropping a 65-60 decision to Newton Falls Tuesday night in the Class AA Sectional Tournament at the South High Fieldhouse.

The Beavers, which took an impressive 12-6 record into the tourney, trailed most of the way but made one gallant bid early in the fourth quarter before bowing out.

NEWTON FALLS, which entered the tournament on a 5-13 record, took a 14-11 lead at the first quarter mark and was on top, 33-27, at halftime.

Beaver Local trailed 50-42 at the end of the third period but rallied with Dick Rudibaugh and Dennis Horger leading the charge.

HORGER sank a bucket with 5:25 left in the contest to put the Beavers in front 52-51 but the lead didn't last long as Newton Falls stormed back and went in front for good.

In that third quarter, Rudibaugh sank eight points and Horger six to pace the rally.

Rudibaugh turned in another of his complete games scoring 23 points and hauling in a total of 19 rebounds. Horger wound up with 10 points.

PAUL RHODA paced Newton Falls with 20 markers and took 16 rebounds while John Riccairdi dropped in 17 points.

The victory actually came at the foul line for Newton Falls. Both teams were tied with 25 field goals each but Newton Falls made 15 of 27 fouls and Beaver Local dropped in 10 of 27.

The winners shot 47 per cent on 25 of 53 and Beaver Local showed 39 per cent on 25 of 66.

Leetonia Drops Tourney Opener

STRUTHERS — The tournament road was short for Leetonia which dropped its post season opener 48-42 to North Lima in the first round of the Sectional Class A tournament here Tuesday night.

A tight first half unfolded and Leetonia, playing its possession type ball, trailing 21-19 at halftime.

North Lima gained its greatest advantage in the third quarter moving to a 36-30 lead and maintained that edge through the final eight minutes.

Rick Plaskett's 13 points coupled with a 12 point effort by Bill Green paced the North Lima five.

Doug Hauer flipped in 17 of his team's total.

The victory sends North Lima against top seeded Springfield Local on Saturday.

In two other games at Struthers last night, Lowellville routed Greenford, 69-37 and Western Reserve nipped Sebring 76-66 in overtime.

Thursday night, two games are scheduled with Columbiana and Southern Local battling at 7:30 and Lisbon meeting Jackson-Milton in the 9 p. m. game.

Oak Glen Thumps Weirton

Thayer, Brand Pace 9th Victory

Oak Glen caught fire in the second quarter then went on to romp over Weirton, 81-57, Tuesday night on the Weir High court.

A balanced scoring attack which saw four Oak Glen starters hitting well into the double figures featured the ninth win of the season for Coach Bob Starkey's team. The Golden Bears have dropped 10 contests but will have a chance to finish with a .500 season if they can register a victory in their final game with Wintersville Saturday at Oak Glen.

THE VICTORY also was the second decision of the season over rival Weirton.

Oak Glen found itself in a 16-16 deadlock at the end of the first quarter but the Bears found the range and outscored Weirton, 29-10 in the second period to put the contest out of reach.

By halftime the Bears had built a 45-26 margin and held a 59-47 advantage at the end of three quarters.

TOM THAYER ripped the cords for 22 points but John Brand, turning in one of his top scoring efforts of the season, pumped in 19 points. Two other Oak Glen regulars, Dennis Carnes and Tom Clark poured in 16 markers each.

Weirton, which is in the midst of one of the school's worst seasons on record was paced by Mitch Zack who tallied 20 points while Dan Foley, Weirton's stellar guard, added 16.

Weirton managed to split the doubleheader with the Rider reserve squad handing the young Bears a 58-56 setback.

Uniontown Romps Over Tourney Foe

PITTSBURGH — Uniontown hardly had to turn a hand in advancing to the quarter-finals of the WPIAL Class A tournament here Tuesday night.

The Raiders, defending state champs, won their 51st straight game by routing Mohawk, 87-36.

The victory put Uniontown into a match on Monday against the Hempfield - Jeannette winner.

Four Uniontown starters hit the double figures with Ray Stephens collecting 18 points and Pat Yates 15 to lead the charge.

Uniontown raced out to a 12-0 lead and was sitting on a 26-6 margin at the end of the first quarter. Gary Grgurina paced the losers with 14 markers.

Potter Wrestlers Throw Carrollton

East Liverpool's wrestling team warmed up for its appearance in the District tournament Saturday by upending Carrollton, 26-11, Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potters will be one of 14 teams taking part in the District eliminations Saturday at Martins Ferry High School. Preliminary matches will begin at noon with finals at 8 P. M.

Heavyweight Chuck Taylor continued undefeated for the Potters when he added another pin to his record by disposing of McDaniel in 5:27. Taylor's pin was the only one of the match. He shows a 9-0 record.

The Potters picked up the remainder of their points on decisions. Scott gained a 6-0 victory in the 106 pound class while Jerry Pillar blanked his 115-pound opponent, 7-0. Bob Gamble won the 130-pound match on a 4-2 verdict, and Tom Logan was a 3-0 winner at the 136-pound class.

Whit Foster boosted his record to 12-1 with a 3-0 decision in the 148-pound class, Ralph Smith battled to a 4-2 victory at 157 pounds and Bob Marshall (168) nipped his opponent 2-1.

Providence, Duke Are Upset Victims On Same Night

Friars Knocked From Undefeated

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bomb never went off, but you can't convince Providence it wasn't a victim of fallout.

The fourth-ranked Friars fell from their spot as the nation's only unbeaten major team Tuesday night, losing 71-57 to Villanova after winning 19 games.

The fallout, in fact, reached as far as College Park, Md., about 100 miles away, where Maryland edged fifth-ranked Duke 85-82. Michigan's top-ranked Wolverines survived the attack, whipping Minnesota 91-78 at Minneapolis.

Providence, whose last previous loss was to Villanova in last season's NCAA playoffs, met the Wildcats on their home floor in the Philadelphia suburb of Villanova.

That's about 15 miles from the Palestra, where only last Saturday night a bomb threat emptied the stands and delayed the St. Joseph's-Villanova game for 25 minutes. No bomb was found, the teams returned for the second half and St. Joseph's won.

Moving to their own gym, the Wildcats exploded Providence's hopes for its first undefeated season. Villanova saw a seven-point lead late in the first half dwindle to one at intermission but then erupted in the second half for the triumph.

Duke, now 18-3, had won 10 straight games and hadn't lost to Maryland in five years before the hustling Terps started to work. They grabbed a 46-28 halftime lead, but the Blue Devils rallied behind a full-court press and sliced their deficit to 72-69. That was as close as they could get, however.

Michigan extended its record to 18-2 by stopping Minnesota, the Big Ten's second-place team. Oliver Darden snapped a 52-52 deadlock with two quick baskets in less than one minute, and the Wolverines were on their way.

Cazzie Russell, who scored 27 points in all, led Michigan completely out of trouble with three straight field goals that gave the winners a 75-63 advantage.

Oklahoma State moved closer to its first Big Eight championship, stopping Oklahoma 64-54.

Baylor slowed Texas Tech's march to the Southwest Conference crown by beating the Red Raiders for the second time this season 88-86. Meanwhile, second-place Southern Methodist moved to within one game of Tech with a 100-80 triumph over Rice.

The night's high score was a 148-79 Miami, Fla victory over Rollins. Rick Barry of Miami, the nation's leading scorer, poured in 59 points. The nation's small college leader, Evansville, drubbed Indiana State 112-84 for its 23rd victory without a loss.

Dayton Site If MAC Needs Playoff Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If a playoff game is necessary to determine the Mid - American Conference representative in the NCAA basketball tournament, it will be played Monday, March 8 at the University of Dayton Fieldhouse.

MAC Commissioner Robert C. James made that announcement today and said the game would be played at 7:30 p.m.

Miami currently holds first place in the torrid race with a 10-1 record with one remaining game, that against Toledo at Oxford Saturday.

Ohio University, 9-1, is at home to Kent Saturday and tangles with Toledo on the Rockets' floor March 6.

If the Redskins and Bobcats win their remaining games, as expected, they'll share the championship won last year by Ohio. But the playoff is needed to pick the NCAA regional representative.

Pughtown Man Gains Prize In Spare Contest

Dick Cameron of Pughtown became the first district bowler to roll 10 spares and a strike will receive a Bulova watch tonight at the Terrace Lanes presented by a representative of the Shaw Jewelry Co. who donates the prize.

The contest will continue at several bowling alleys in the district. A bowler must roll 10 straight spares, then a strike in the 11th frame to win a watch.

Cameron turned the trick while bowling in the Ridgerunners League at Terrace Lanes last week. He wound up with a score of 181.

Bob Giegengack is in his 19th year as coach of the Yale track team. He formerly coached at Fordham.

5 Of Top 10 Are Defeated

Unbeaten McKinley Ranked No. 1 In Final Poll; Lima Is Runnerup

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's high school basketeers toss away the season's records today, and go into a free-for-all battle for the state's championships which only two of the 888 entrants can win.

Canton McKinley's 18 - game winners received the nod of 48 sports editors as the team favored to take the Class AA laurels, and Celina Immaculate Conception, beaten twice, was rated tops in the smaller school division.

But the ratings are just the concensus of the voters in the season's final Associated Press poll. From now on, along the lengthy tournament trail where many setups will turn in upsets, it is up to the favorites to prove their mettle against all comers.

The state is filled with teams which have stormed through the regular season without a loss, and some of them should be among the four in each division due for the title battles at Ohio State's St. John Arena March 26-27.

Chasing McKinley's Bulldogs to the wire in the poll were four clean squads, each 18-0 representing Lima Shawnee, Urbana, Cincinnati Withrow and Youngstown Boardman. Next came once-beaten Cleveland St. Ignatius and Newark, 16-2, Portsmouth, 16-1, Columbus South, and 16-2 Dayton Chaminade.

The new state champion may be somewhere in that list—but a flock of challengers will dispute it.

Batavia, 19-0, is runnerup to the Celina team in Class A, and of the others in the top 10 only fourth-rated Minster, 18-0, has escaped the sting of defeat.

Cites Health Reasons

Ed Jucker Quits Cincy Cage Post

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati is turning to Ed Jucker's long-time assistant with the hope of restoring the Bearcats' basketball glory.

Jucker resigned Tuesday as head coach, saying he did so because of family and health reasons. UC President Walter C. Langsam announced he will be succeeded by Tay Baker, Jucker's assistant since 1960. The resignation goes into effect with the end of the season.

The 46-year-old Jucker, who almost guided the Bearcats to three consecutive NCAA championships, said he will remain at UC as a teacher and director of the intramural program.

"I hardly know my family. I have four children growing up who hardly know me. They have got to come first," Jucker told a news conference after observing that "I've been living on pills."

Baker, on a recruiting trip in Pennsylvania, did not attend the conference.

In announcing his resignation Jucker, whose UC teams have a 110-28 record going into tonight's game, said the Bearcats' mediocre 1964-65 performance had nothing to do with it. UC is now 11-12 for the season—the first time it has been under .500 at this stage of the season since Jucker succeeded present Athletic Director George Smith in 1960.

That season UC won a playoff with Bradley to go to the NCAA Tournament where the Bearcats scored an upset 70-65 victory in overtime over Ohio State. The Bearcats repeated as Missouri Valley and NCAA champions in 1962 and again went to the 1963 tournament as champions in the conference.

Baker, 36, also attended UC, with time out for classes for World War II. He graduated in 1950. A native of Hamilton, Ohio, Taylor (Tay) Baker coached at Lebanon, Miamisburg and Wyoming high schools before returning to UC as freshman basketball coach in 1959.

Police, Bright's To Clash For 8th Grade Title Today

The Police Dept. and George Bright's, the No. 1 and 2 teams in the regular season standings will battle in the tourney final of the Little Potters Eighth Grade League today at Westgate gym.

The championship game is set for 5:45 p. m. with a consolation game between Coca - Cola and Ogilvie's at 5 p. m.

The Police Dept. defeated Ogilvie's in the semi-finals Tuesday, 31-26 with Zanders collecting 11 points for the winners. Cunningham led Ogilvies with 17.

Bright's was a 41-29 winner over Coca-Cola with Hull bagging 19 in the victory. Baughman's 12 points paced the Cokes.

If the first round on Monday, the Coca-Cola team had ended a 41-game losing streak by upsetting American Vit. 29-20. Ogilvie's defeated M & M Vending in the other game.

Browns Set Annual Pro Grid Twinbill

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, Detroit Lions and New York Giants return to Municipal Stadium Sept. 4 for the Cleveland Browns' fourth annual pro football doubleheader. The program will be the same one offered last year when a capacity crowd of 83,736 turned out. The Browns will play Green Bay and the Lions will meet the Giants.

Junior High Honor Group Initiates 20

Eleven ninth graders and nine eighth grade students were initiated at the annual Honor Society assembly Tuesday afternoon at East Junior High School.

The ninth grade pupils include Anthony Barbuto, Kaydean Beiling, John Chan, Alexandra Cycyn, Jane DeLong, James Flora, Michael Hargraves, Rhonda Hayes, Lysbeth Hocking, Michael Hughes and Margaret Rush.

The eighth grade initiates are James Anderson, Marlene Christian, Thomas Gooding, Mary Lou Lough, Cathy Morris, Fred Morris, Sheila Stickler, Patricia Wyche and Susan Nusser.

In addition to the society initiation, 11 students were given East Liverpool Public School awards for having maintained a 3 A-1 B average or better, for the first semester. They included Christopher Hadley and Martin Webb, seventh grade; Cathy Morris, Susan Nusser and Patricia Wyche, eighth grade, and Barbuto, Chan, Cycyn, Hargraves, Miss Hocking and Miss Rush, ninth grade.

Guest speakers were two former East Junior High students now seniors in East Liverpool High School and members of the National Honor Society, Miss Susan Jones, who spoke on the leadership aspect of honor society membership, and Joseph Everson, who told of the service phase.

Jerry Russell, principal, was in charge of the assembly and James Martin, a teacher, assisted with the initiation.

The assembly opened with the Lord's Prayer and flag salute.

Child Clinics Set At Beaver Local

Pre-school clinics and enrollment sessions for Beaver Local School District youngsters, who will enter first grade in September, will start March 11, Standish Miller, elementary supervisor, announced today.

To enter first grade, a child must be 6 on or before Sept. 1.

Parents are to provide a birth certificate along with a physician's statement certifying immunization for whooping cough, tetanus, diphtheria, polio and small pox.

If the child does not have the immunization, the County Health Department will, if parents desire, provide the needed immunizations at the clinics.

The schedule for the clinics and enrollment are Rogers School March 11; Elkton School, March 10; West Point School, March 12, and Calcutta School, March 19. All sessions start at 9 a. m.

Fire Believed Fatal To 15 Aged Belgians

BUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Firemen searched the smoking ruins of a home for the aged today, seeking the remains of 15 persons believed to have died when flames swept the two-story brick and stone building about 1 a.m.

Six of the 21 persons believed to have been inside the building were rescued. They suffered burns. A nurse and a maid were reported among those trapped.

Flames prevented firemen from entering the 50-year-old building.

Four firemen suffered burns and one was seriously injured when a beam crashed down on his head.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Substitute Action For Fattening Nibbles

One homemaker has contrived a novel plan of action by which she hopes to slim down on the double. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

I have a plan: Instead of nibbling, which adds calories, I'll take action to use calories. I need to know how many calories I would use in various activities. For example, in climbing a flight of stairs (14 steps), does it take more calories to run up than it does to walk up the steps? How many for vigorous stretching? Does dancing use many calories?

"My strategy is this: Instead of eating a piece of pie or cake which would furnish about 400 calories, if I turn to exercise and use up 100 calories, then I will have gotten rid of 500 calories," she concluded.

HOW'S THAT again? This is what might be termed strictly feminine logic. The idea is fine and slimming, even though the mathematics are juggled. Start with this principle: Calories used in an activity, when not replaced by food, are drawn from fat storage. But simply turning down 400 cake calories cannot be equated with burning 400 calories already stored. Still, on the credit side, those 400 calories are not added either!

Now to burn 100 calories. It is true that the speed at which a given amount of work is performed affects the energy required. Fast movements use more calories than slow movements. However, the practice of running upstairs involves strain and is not worth doing. Climbing a flight of stairs is good exercise for hip and leg muscles, but it does not burn many calories. Why? Because it requires so little time to climb the stairs. In a given activity you burn only so many calories per minute.

MANY FACTORS influence the amount of energy used in activities — weight, age, rate, temperature, etc. Our homemaker is in her mid-forties and weighs 160 pounds. Thus in walking up a flight of stairs she would use less than three calories.

So what to do to burn 100 calories? Take a straight - away walk. At her weight, she would burn 4.4 calories per minute, walking at the normal rate of three miles an hour. In 20 minutes she would burn 88 calories —and tone up, too.

Stretching? Excellent, for this comes under the head of physical activity, which uses three to four calories per minute. A 10-minute stretch - exercise session is extra slimming, for it also tones muscles.

Dancing? Perfect. Here are the calories used per minute: Foxtrot, 5.2; waltz, 5.7; rumba, 7.0. And what fun.

Our homemaker is on the right track. A small amount of regular exercise, taken in place of fattening nibbles, can strike a balance between calories consumed and calories burned. Happy slimming!

WYOMING, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Rosena Kremers, 56, was taking her driver's test. Patrolman George Isler, the testing officer, said she put her car into drive instead of reverse and it jumped a concrete bumper and hit the police station. Damage was slight. Isler said Mrs. Kremers' learning permit was renewed for two months.

2 Sentenced, Shot 'Smokey The Bear'

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP) — Two McMinn County, Tenn., men have received 60-day jail sentences and a year's probation for shooting Smokey the Bear twice with a shotgun.

District Ranger Dinnie F. Lambert said the men shot Smokey in the face on both sides of a U.S. Forest Service sign newly installed on Tennessee Highway 68.

Smokey is the agency's fire prevention symbol.

The sign had been set up only three hours. The shots went all the way through and burst the plywood on the opposite side, Lambert said.

U.S. Commissioner H. Arnold Morgan of Chattanooga suspended the jail terms, but required the men to pay for replacing the damaged sections. The sign cost $102.

Past Presidents Join In Anniversary Event

Rotary Club Pays Tribute To Barth

Harold B. Barth, one of two living charter members of the East Liverpool Rotary Club, was honored during the noon dinner meeting of the club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

The occasion marked the 45th anniversary of the East Liverpool club and the 60th anniversary of the founding of the first club in the United States.

Barth, who has served as secretary of the local organization since it was chartered Dec. 1, 1920, is, as far as can be determined, the oldest secretary in point of service in Rotary International.

—:—

HE WAS presented with a leather attache case and a portrait of himself, with an appropriate plaque, to be hung in the museum of the Carnegie Public Library, where he serves as curator.

William B. Louthan, the other charter member, was ill and unable to attend the meeting.

The presentations were made in behalf of 30 visiting past presidents of the local club by C. V. Hughes, one of the past presidents and a senior active member.

Past presidents in attendance included Joseph M. Wells, who served during 1923-24, and Malcolm W. Thompson, who was president in 1926-27.

Others were Robert E. Boyce, Raymond S. Buzzard, Francis H. Lang, Adnah L. White, Paul E. Hutchman, Richard V. Beatty, David G. Boyce, Maxon H. King, J. Wilson Hepplewhite, Frank A. Dawson.

William D. Ogilvie, C. Walter Ashbaugh, William E. Dunlap, William B. Cooper, James H. Riggs, Don L. Burbick, John M. Pinney, Clarence M. Mayberry, Edwin L. Bayley, Dean M. Wilhelm, Charles D. Taylor.

George Hargraves Jr., R.Jay Kinsey, Sidney C. Porter Jr. and Ralph A. Finley.

IN MAKING the presentations, Hughes said that "he had had many experiences in his life, but one of the best was knowing Harold Barth." He declared "there is no better secretary in any Rotary Club in the country . . .and no club has any better records than those kept by him."

Barth spoke briefly, giving a brief history of the founding of Rotary by five young men in Chicago on Feb. 23, 1905, and its growth to the present 560,000 members in 11,800 clubs located in 127 different countries.

He reminded that from the early days of the club, the twin mottoes have been "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

BARTH RELATED how the East Liverpool Club organized with 25 members in 1920, under the sponsorship of the Alliance club, and described the problems that were overcome in order to become eligible for a charter.

One problem — and a big one — was that to be eligible for a Rotary club a community had to have a population of at least 25,000.

Barth said the local group overcame this obstacle by "annexing" Wellsville, Newell, Chester and Midland.

He also discussed the early work of the club in establishing clinics and workshops for crippled children of the area.

In what he termed "a critical analysis of what Rotary is supposed to be," Barth reviewed what changes he thought Rotary as a whole and the leaders in particular have gone through.

He said he felt the leadership of Rotary, at the governor level especially, was not on a par with that of earlier days and cited the lack of available time to meet the increased duties as a probable reason.

—:—

BRYCE W. KENDALL of Salem, district governor, offered a few remarks and said that during the observance of this 60th anniversary "Rotarians should take pride in the past, but primarily, should re-dedicate themselves to the vision of a bright future."

He reminded the local club of the district meeting April 23 and 24 in Salem.

Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio will be one of the speakers at the affair, along with a past governor and two past presidents of Rotary.

Richard O. Wilson was program chairman for Tuesday's meeting. Alvin T. Babb, president, presided.

Beauty Shop Group Aids Aged, Children

The closing activity of "National Beauty Salon Week" was conducted Monday when a group of members of Unit 15 of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association performed welfare services at the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture.

Residents from area rest homes and children of the Elkton Retarded Children's School received shampoos, sets, hair cuts and permanents.

Participating were Miss Eleanor Doak, chairman of welfare work; Mrs. Dorothy Putnam, Mrs. Evelyn Messenger, Mrs. Grace Pinney, Miss Jackie Goppert, Mrs. Dora Fickle, Earl Stratton, Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Rex Starkey, Miss Mary Ellen Dickey, Mrs. Alma Dotson, Mrs. Thelma Shamp and Miss Marie Gallagher, assisted by students of the school. Box luncheons were served at noon.

Local Dentist Speaks For Chester Kiwanis

Dr. Myer Alpern, East Liverpool dentist, spoke on "Dental Health" at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Chester City Hall Auditorium.

He was introduced by Dr. Frank Bragg, program chairman. Twenty-one attended. Invocation was by the Rev. C. Donald Vogel of the Chester First United Presbyterian Church.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday night.

Man Names Estranged Wife For Theft Of Borrowed Auto

In one of the most unusual auto theft charges ever filed in Municipal Court, an East End woman was arraigned today before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an affidavit filed by her estranged husband, alleging that she took a car which had been loaned to the husband by a friend.

James Halstead of Alpha St. filed the charge against his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Halstead, formerly of Alpha St. but now residing at Winona. He alleged that she drove away Sunday in a 1959 Pontiac sedan which had been loaned to him by Rex N. Kreefer, 252 Baum St. Kreefer also signed the affidavit.

Mrs. Halstead countered with an affidavit in which she accused her husband of striking her, also on Sunday.

Kreefer's auto was reported recovered at Lisbon late Monday afternoon by the county sheriff's department. Kreefer and Halstead later filed the auto theft charge against Mrs. Halstead.

The court continued both the auto theft and the assault charges until March 18. Halstead had been free on an $82.50 bond. The court released the bond and permitted Halstead to go free on his own recognizance.

Mrs. Halstead also was released on her own recognizance. She was represented by Atty. Joseph Baronzzi, former assistant county prosecutor.

In filing the theft report, Kreefer told police at 11 a. m. Monday that the four - door Pontiac sedan was taken from Alpha St. between 4 p. m. Friday and 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

Police said he reported at the time he had loaned the car to Halstead and believed that Halstead's wife had driven away in it.

The capital city of West Irian has had three names in less than two years. When former Netherlands New Guinea was turned over to Indonesia, Hollandia became Kotabaru. Now it is called Sukarnapura to honor Indonesian President Sukarno.

Service pins were presented Lester Poe, 23 years; Sam Parkes, seven; Mrs. Ruth Parkes, six; Donald Raber, four; Bob Heacock, Mrs. Pat Heacock, Carrie Galas, Andy Parkes, Mark Hill, Elliott Forsyth and Bobby Brown, three; Robert Brewster, Wilbur Lucas, Mrs. Roberta Lucas, Bernard Casto, Mrs. Jacqueline E. Casto, David Toot and Scott Calhoun, two, and Mrs. Doris Calhoun, Jimmy Dray, Danny Huddleston, Fred Hyder and Donald Jones, one.

Den mothers given recognition were Mrs. Doris Calhoun and Mrs. Pat Sloan, Den 1; Mrs. Heacock, Mrs. Alice Malone, Den 2; Mrs. Thelma Francis, Den 5; Mrs. Ruth Parkes, Den 6, and Mrs. Pat Huddleston and Mrs. Alma Dray, Den 7.

Alan Sims, senior patrol leader of Scout Troop 12, assisted by eight scouts, conducted a candlelight ceremony in which Bobby Brown of Den 5, a Webelos recipient, was taken into the troop. Bobby, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Brown of Idaho Ave., presented his mother with the miniature mother's pin.

The invocation was given by Earl Locke; group singing was led by Mrs. Heacock and the benediction was given by the Rev. H. Gene Toot, co-pastor. Mrs. Emmett Lawrence was in charge of the dinner arrangements.

A planning meeting will be held Monday night at the home of Sam Parkes of Laura Ave., cubmaster.

The next pack meeting March 23 will feature annual inspection of uniforms.

Awards Given Cubs, Scouts At St. Ann Church's Dinner

The presentation of awards and merit badges featured the annual dinner meeting of Cub Scout Pack 60 and Boy Scout Troop 60 at St. Ann's Catholic Church Sunday night at the church hall.

Robert W. Gray of Chester, former Cherokee District scout executive, was guest speaker. Robert Hocking, institutional representative, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Gray and daughter, Bonnie, and Wayne Wilson, commissioner of the two units.

Hocking, who led the invocation, was master of ceremonies. Dave Hargraves, senior patrol leader, led the flag salute.

Ross Williamson, cubmaster, presented awards to the following scouts: Richard Hocking, James Pantoni, Donald Ramsey, Frank Mikeals, Frank Richards and Robert Richards. New members of the pack include Timothy Walker and William Emmerling.

Rodney and Roger Cornman received service pins; James Canton and Hocking, five-year service pins as committeemen; Mrs. Amelia Richards, two - year service pin and with Mrs. Francis Ramsey received certificate of appreciation.

John Chan, Mike Hargraves, Dave Hargraves and Jonathan Ramsey, scouts, were presented bronze palms for their Eagle Rank. Ramsey, who is attending school in Erie, received the award through his parents. The presentation was made by Don Ramsey, scoutmaster.

Other awards were presented James Hocking, Robert Hocking, Gilbert Richards, George Richards, Pat Purton, Mike Kreefer, Robert Bosco, Andy Hughes, Danny Vallera, Craig Means, Robert Kays, Steve McConnachie and James Chan.

On behalf of Fr. Thomas Beldue, pastor, Hocking presented an award to the boys who attended Mass and Communion regularly on Scout Sundays. Most serve as altar boys.

Ramsey thanked Mrs. Robert Hocking and Mrs. Jesse Vallera who were co-chairmen of the dinner committee and also the mothers who assisted.

New Date Set On Tax Cases

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted continuances until March 10 in the cases of four men accused of failure to comply with the city income tax law by not filing final returns on 1963 income and estimates on 1964 earnings.

The new hearing dates were set for William Barnes, 128 W. Church Ln., Harold Freeman, rear 744 Sophia St., Kenneth Yost, 460 Mulberry St., and Glenn Weyand Jr., 1195 Dodge St.

The judge ordered a bench warrant for Lloyd Kirby, 610 College St., who failed to appear for a hearing on the same charge.

After a brief hearing, Harry Bazluk of Thompson Pl. was found not guilty — also on charges involving a final 1963 return and a 1964 estimate. Bazluk explained he is on Social Security and does not work. He had pleaded not guilty.

The charges were filed against the men Feb. 15 by D. G. Wilkinson, city income tax commissioner.

Queried by the court, Wilkinson said Barnes had been warned "at least five times" on his non - compliance. Questioned by the court, Barnes said he "forgot" the returns, which were due April 15, 1964.

Wilkinson said Freeman was warned three times. Freeman told the court he did not file returns because "I didn't know how much I owed."

Yost explained he works at Steubenville and pays a city tax there and was unaware he also was subject to an Esat Liverpool tax.

In each instance, the judge told the defendants at least to file the required forms prior to March 10.

Ellis Island has been abandoned since 1954, when the Immigration and Naturalization Service moved its activities to Manhattan.

Midland Man Elected To Clinic Board

Truman E. Rodfong of Midland is among seven new directors elected at the Beaver County Mental Hygiene Clinic organization's sixth annual dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Park United Presbyterian Church in Beaver.

Others named were William J. Gordon of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Emily Howe, William J. Pauley and Atty. John N. Sawyer, all of Beaver, J. Allan Griffith of Vanport and D. Roy Mackintosh of Baden.

In election of officers, Wilson E. Tucker of Rochester, president; Dr. Nicholas Krayer of Beaver, vice president, and Atty. Peter O. Steege of Brighton Township, were given new terms.

Mrs. David Lindsay of Brighton Township was named secretary.

Dr. David Spence, clinic medical director, presented the annual report. William Forrester of Pittsburgh, chairman of Region 1 of the comprehensive mental health project for the Department of Public Welfare, was guest speaker. About 65 attended.

Pastor Has Series In Maine Pulpits

The Rev. John R. Rankin, pastor of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian Church at Hickory, Pa., and a native of Wellsville, has completed a week of followup services for the conclusion of a Billy Graham Associates Crusade in Lewiston-Auburn, Maine. The crusade took in 192 churches.

Rev. Rankin held services in five churches that included the Presbyterian, Assembly of God, Baptist, Advent Christian and United Church of Christ.

Rev. Rankin is the son of Mrs. Ella Mae Rank, who resides in Wellsville, and the late Rev. John A. Rankin, who was minister of the former United Presbyterian Church, now merged with the Riverside Presbyterian Church.

He has been at the Mt. Prospect church for four years.

School Fund Bill Advances

House Unit Again To Air Proposed Sales Tax Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Education Committee turns its attention again tonight to the initiated sales tax bill which is vying for top attention in the State Legislature.

Initial hearings on the measure two weeks ago attracted an overflow crowd, about double the turnout for first airing of the widely-publicized bill to extend bus transportation to parochial and private school pupils. The tax bill proposes a boost in the sales tax from three to four per cent to raise an additional $116 million a year for schools.

Rep. B. A. Broughton, R-Geauga, chairman of the education committee, is alternating hearings weekly on the two hot school issues which thus far have overshadowed all other pending legislation.

So-called "fair housing" legislation, another issue which figures to draw widespread attention as it did two years ago, has been introduced in the Senate and assigned to the Committee on Labor and Commerce. The date for the first hearing has not been announced.

The first appropriations bill to be acted on at this session cleared the House Tuesday by a vote of 119-0. It calls for a $7½ million allocation to make up a school deficiency in the current biennium.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, told House members the deficiency had been predicted and that it resulted from "extended services, increased administration costs, and other factors."

Two other measures were passed Tuesday by the House although one squeaked through 72-56 after long debate with only three votes to spare.

The bill which now goes to the Senate would permit taking of depositions from doctors in court cases being tried in their home counties. Under present law, depositions from doctors may only be presented when he lives in another county.

Sponsors contended the measure will facilitate court processes and save the time and money of litigants. Rep. Edmund James, R-Noble, chairman of the judiciary committee, joined sponsors in defense of the proposal.

Rep. Harry McIlwain, R-Hamilton, an attorney, asserted the bill would increase the difficulty of getting doctors into court to testify.

"You have to black-jack a doctor today to get him into court," McIlwain declared.

Ohio would join 25 other states which have agencies to promote the arts under provisions of a bill which cleared the House 118-10. Rep. Stanley Aronoff, R-Hamilton, authored the proposal which calls for creation of a 15-member arts council to be named by the Governor.

The Council would survey Ohio's cultural and artistic resources, plan for their future, and "assess the role of the arts in the growth and development of the state".

More than three dozen more bills were introduced as the lawmakers reached the halfway point in their sixth work week. Among them was a modified capital punishment measure by Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, with co-sponsors.

Kurfess' measure would provide the death penalty in first degree murder convictions only when recommended by the jury. Presently, the jury is empowered only to recommend mercy.

The House also received bills to abolish mayors' courts and give their jurisdictions to county courts, provide for the service of summons on minors, designate U. S. 52 in Lawrence County the "Thomas Jenkins Memorial Highway" in honor of a former member, and increase the penalty for the illegal taking of deer.

In the latter measure, Rep. Delbert B. Jeffery, R-Paulding, proposes a fine of $100-$500 and 30 days in jail, or both, with violators forbidden to take or possess deer for a three-year period.

The Senate received 10 new bills, including proposals for a statehouse office for local governments and repeal of a law banning strikes by public employes.

GOP Group Lists Events

LISBON — Atty. Charles Pike, Columbiana County Republican chairman, reviewed plans for three district GOP events at the meeting of the Republican Advisory Council Monday noon at the Wick Hotel.

The Columbiana Teen-age Republican Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Joshua Dixon School.

William Weir, safety director with the Ohio State Highway Department division office at New Philadelphia, will be guest speaker for the Mid - County Republican Club meeting March 3 at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Charlotte Crothers, club president, will preside at the meeting in the GOP headquarters on E. Lincoln Way. It is open to the public.

The annual Lincoln Day dinner will be held March 9 at the South Side School in Columbiana with Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe as principal speaker.

A film produced by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. was screened. The council's next luncheon meeting will be held March 8 at noon at the hotel.

1 Killed, 3 Injured As Big Rig Runs Wild

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A trailer truck ran wild down a steep Johnston street Tuesday, causing havoc in which one man was killed and three were seriously injured.

The truck, partially loaded with cases of pickles, hit two trucks and three cars before smashing into a building. The cab was embedded in the wall.

A utility pole was knocked down and wires were scattered about the street.

Killed was Charles Kocher, 60, of Johnstown. His panel truck, the only other moving vehicle involved, was struck by the runaway rig.

Taken to Lee Hospital were:

John Goodrich, 47, of Nanty Glo, a passenger in Kocher's truck; Edward Hardy, 42, of Johnstown, who tried to run into a nearby building to escape the truck; and Worth H. Jilcott, 45, of Greenville, N. C., the driver of the rig.

National Steel Aide Of Weirton Promoted

PITTSBURGH — Charles E. Eddy, manager of special services of the National Steel Research and Development department, will join the corporation's raw material department at its Grant Building headquarters March 1, it is announced by George A. Stinson, president of National Steel.

Eddy became associated with National at the Weirton Steel Division in 1946. He became superintendent of mechanical shops in 1955 and raw materials engineer in 1957. In the following year he was transferred to the research and development activity, was named assistant to the director in 1959 and advanced to his present position in July 1964. He is a native of Weirton.

Service To Be March 5

79th Prayer Day Observances Set

The 79th annual observance of "World Day of Prayer" will be held March 5 with several community churches planning to unite with the world Christian community in prayerful supplication.

The Council of United Church Women is sponsoring services at 2 p. m. in the Oakland Free Methodist Church and 7:30 p. m. at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church with Mrs. Harold Estel and Mrs. E. H. Seiferth as chairmen.

THE GLENMOOR United Presbyterian Church will be hostess unit at 7:45 for the congregations of the Calcutta and Longs Run churches.

Uniting six continents and more than 125 nations, this first Friday of the Lenten season has been set aside as a time for prayers for peace and brotherhood on the theme "What Doth the Lord Require."

In writing the service, Mrs. Jesse Jai McNeil of Pasadena, Calif., called the church "to a radical and deep involvement in affairs of the world in the name of Christ."

Wife of the Rev. McNeil, author and minister, she has an outstanding record in church leadership, having served as a member of the National Board of Managers of United Church Women since 1957 and as a member of the National Baptist Convention. While a resident of Michigan, she was the first Negro to receive the citation, "Layman of the Year," from the Detroit Council of Churches, and the second woman so honored.

CHURCHES participating in the afternoon service at the Oakland Free Methodist Church are the Second Baptist, Second Church of Christ, Boyce Methodist, Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist, Grace United Presbyterian and the Second United Presbyterian. Representatives of the East End churches will provide the message, music, meditations and prayer.

The Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer, pastor, will give the address at the evening service at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Mrs. Alvin Stevens will present vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. William Riedel Jr., church organist.

Housing Workshops Slated For County Young Couples

LISBON — Young couples housing workshops will be held March 11, 18 and 25, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

They have been planned by a committee of young homemakers and are sponsored by the Columbiana County Cooperative Extension service of Ohio State University.

The workshops are specifically for young couples who need to plan their present and future housing goals and those who are considering buying, building, or remodeling a home sometime in the future.

The sessions will begin at 8 p. m. in the County Extension Service office, 113 S. Market St., and baby sitting service will be provided for those who bring their children, Miss Overturf said.

The outline for the series follows:

March 11 — "General Considerations on Housing a Family," to be discussed by Miss Doris Snook, housing specialist at Ohio State University.

March 18 — "Financing Your Home and Building Codes," with local resource persons in charge.

March 25 — "Specifics to Consider If Building or Remodeling," by Miss Snook and Kenneth Batties, agricultural engineering specialist at OSU.

Other sessions will be arranged if several persons are specifically interested in either remodeling or building; otherwise, individual assistance will follow.

Enrollment is limited to couples under 30. Registration fee is $1 per family for materials and anyone who desires to enroll may write or call Miss Overturf by March 4.

No, Sir, He's Not Deceased, He's Dead

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The examination of a witness Tuesday in the trial of four men charged with slaying a mountain housewife produced this exchange:

"Who is your father?," an attorney asked.

The witness gave his father's name.

"And who is he?," fired back the lawyer.

"He's my mother's husband."

"Is he deceased?," the attorney asked.

"No, sir," answered the witness.

"Well, where is he?"

"He's dead."

Physicians Optimistic For Cardinal Cushing

BOSTON (AP) — Physicians attending Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, have expressed satisfaction and optimism over his recovery from major abdominal surgery despite a slight setback in his condition.

The 69-year-old prelate's recovery has been retarded by an asthmatic condition, according to a bulletin issued Tuesday by the chancery office.

A section of the cardinal's intestine was removed in a 3½ hour operation Saturday. The section contained a growth known as polyps.

Barbara Hutton Ill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, suffering from an intestinal ailment, is expected to remain at Presbyterian Medical Center for another two or three weeks.

Gunman Robs Doctor's Wife

BEAVER — Beaver County police today still were seeking a gunman who forced his way into the home of a Beaver doctor late Tuesday morning and tied up his wife before searching the home in an apparent attempted robbery.

Beaver police said a man rang the doorbell at the home of Dr. John H. Shugert about 10 a. m., and when Mrs. Shugert answered, he forced his way in with a gun.

He forced Mrs. Shugert into a chair, and tied her with a cord from an electric appliance. He inquired "where is the safe," and proceeded to search the house for about 20 minutes after learning there is no safe at the premises.

The doctor's wife freed herself about 10 minutes after the gunman left and notified her husband at the Rochester General Hospital. Mrs. Shugert was badly shaken by the experience, according to police, but was not harmed.

As far as can be determined, nothing was taken.

The man was described as about 45 to 50 years old, about 6 feet tall and of a heavy build. He had a dark complexion and graying dark hair.

Police believe he fled in a blue and white station wagon which was seen in the area.

The oldest America sport is lacrosse, which was played by North American Indians as a part of their tribal war maneuvers long before this land was discovered by the white man.

County Pays Project Bills

LISBON — Commissioners Tuesday approved payment of bills totaling $8,940.50 on the new nursing home project at the County Home.

The expenses had been approved by Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool, architect. The payments were: Firestone Electric Co. of Salem, $7,000 on the electrical contract; Briggs-Jones, Inc., of Youngstown, $1,141 for tiling floors, and Superior Fixtures Co. of Cleveland, $799.50 for kitchen fixtures.

In other business, Meek Stationery Co. of East Palestine was given a contract for a filing cabinet for the Dog Warden's Department and three sets of lettering guides at a total cost of $407. There was one other bid of $369 from Youngstown Office Supply Co.

A desk was purchased from the Campus Equipment Co. of Youngstown for the treasurer's office on a low bid of $107.95. There were two other bids — Youngstown Office Supply, $113.50, and Meek Stationery, $129.75.

Travel allowance of $35 was approved for Welfare Director Robert Bycroft to attend an executive committee meeting of the state welfare committee today and Thursday at Columbus.

A $300 slag grant was given to Fairfield Township trustees. The commissioners next meeting will be held Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Bonefish grow by shrinking. When the young fish reach about three inches, they actually shrink an inch or two before resuming growth to attain full length of about 36 inches.

Weirton Girl Winner In District Orations

Judy Briscoe, representing Weir High School, won the district American Legion oratorical contest held in New Martinsville Tuesday night.

She is now entitled to receive a four-year tuition-free scholarship to any of the nine colleges under the jurisdiction of the West Virginia Board of Education, and will move on to sectional competition the week of March 1 in Wellsburg.

Secretive World Of Negro Extremism

Violence In Muslim Units Involved Only 2 Groups

NEW YORK (AP) — The violence that flared in rival Negro Muslim groups in the past three days involved just two of more than a dozen organizations active in the secretive world of Negro extremism.

With the exception of Elijah Muhammad's Chicago-based Black Muslims, whose New York mosque was destroyed by an explosion and fire Tuesday, most groups of any strength have headquarters in New York.

Police in a number of major American cities indicate that extremist groups command allegiance from only a comparative handful of Negroes.

Because the groups often refuse to say much about themselves, it is almost impossible to get accurate membership figures. Four years ago the New York Times estimated that perhaps only 2,000 of this city's one million Negroes were members of extremist groups, compared with 25,000 dues-paying members of the NAACP. the proportion is believed to be considerably less in all other cities.

Yet officials agree that the influence of extremists can, in times of crisis like last summer's riots, be out of proportion to the number of persons involved.

In New York City last summer, at least 17 black nationalist groups were members of a coordinating body called the African Nationalist Federated Council.

Most of these organizations were anti-white, and believed the American Negro could gain freedom only by linking his fate with that of rising African and Asian nations.

"The white man has never given us anything without outside pressure," said a nationalist speaker at a summer rally. "We can never get anywhere in this country by ourselves, because we are a minority. But what the white man doesn't understand is that black people are a majority in the world. We must look to people who are our color."

The groups are organized along varying lines. Some, like the various Muslim groups are oriented toward religion. Others are primarily political. An example is Harlem's Progressive Labor Movement, headed by self-proclaimed Communist William Epton.

About half of the Negro extremists are believed to belong to the Black Muslims, properly known as the Lost-Found Nation of Islam. Formed in 1930, it preaches complete separation of blacks and whites.

Wiry, 67-year-old Elijah Muhammad, who has led the group since 1933, says the United States should turn over "several states" for an all-black nation.

The Muslims have claimed as many as 200,000 members. Other estimates put active membership as low as 5,500. Rallies open to the non-Muslim public have drawn 3,000 in Detroit, 3,500 in St. Louis, 7,000 in Chicago and 9,000 in Philadelphia.

Although they claim to oppose violence, members occasionally have been involved in serious clashes with police. And, a number of former members have charged that a strong internal police force — the Fruit of Islam — is used to keep wayward members in line.

The Black Muslim doctrine teaches that whites are "devils" created 6,000 years ago by genetic manipulation to sow discord in an all-black world.

Their most famous defector was Malcolm X, an urbane light-skinned Negro who was shot to death as he stood on the stage of the Audubon Ballroom in Manhattan Sunday.

Longest hole - in - one by a female golfer in 1964 was scored by Mrs. Audra McDermott of Karachi, Pakistan, reports Golf Digest.

Court Sentences 3 Of Wellsville

Three Wellsville men were sentenced Tuesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, two for probation violations and one for non-support.

James Fraser, 19, of 412 Buckeye Ave. was ordered to serve a suspended six - month sentence after he refused to obey the court's orders to stay away from a 16-year-old Wellsville girl. He allegedly tried to marry the girl after the court order. He had been accused of contributing to her delinquency.

Herman Carl Hurd, 31, of 18th St. Heights was ordered to serve five months after he pleaded guilty to associating with Mrs. Edna McIntosh of Wellsville. He had served a month of a suspended sentence and was released on court orders to remain away from her. Mrs. McIntosh pleaded not guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors and her hearing was set for March 9. He also was cited for contributing. Both have children.

Arthur Thrasher Jr., 37, of 1623 Commerce St. received a six-month sentence and a fine of $500 for non-support of his 14-year-old son.

Some historians believe that the baronial and royal parties assembled on opposite sides of the Thames and met on a small island in the river to seal the Magna Carta.

County Board Urges Use Of Faculty Plan

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night discussed 12 recommendations made by first grade teachers of the four rural school systems — Beaver, Fairfield-Waterford, Southern and United Locals — and then recommended that local boards adopt them for better work in that grade.

In other business, Hubert Lawrence, school psychologist, and County Supt. James L. McBride reported on the recent American Association of School Administrators meeting they attended at Atlantic City. Both agreed it was very educational and that they received answers to questions, along with discussions on school problems at the local level.

Supt. McBride discussed progress of plans for a Community College for Columbiana County, what has been done so far and further steps that are necessary. He said the next big step would be appointment of a seven-man board by county commissioners. This board would organize the college, which has been promised by the Board of Regents and the governor of Ohio.

He also discussed the Title III program and what the school can receive and Olin Sanor, president, was authorized to sign an assurance of compliance of non-discrimination with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare regulations, under the Civil Rights Act of 1964, so that the board could receive matching funds.

Several letters were read on the county board's recommendation for reading Scripture and saying prayers in classes of the four rural schools.

Those read were from the Winona Monthly Meeting of Friends, the Rev. and Mrs. John E. Horn, 26 members of the Adult Sunday School Class at the New Garden Methodist Church and the First Friends Church in Salem.

Supt. McBride explained the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s Tele-Lecture program to be presented tonight at the Southern Local High School for the rural school administrators meeting.

He said this service of talking directly to congressmen and other officials could be made available to schools for $30 per month, plus phone toll charge to the person with whom the discussion is held. Rep. Sweeney will be speaker and answer questions at the meeting tonight.

Fred Lohman, attendance officer, reported he made 54 calls during the month, 32, at school and 22 to homes, and that he traveled 809 miles.

A resolution of sympathy will be sent to Jack F. Baker, executive head of Southern Local School, in the death of his sister, Mrs. Edna Mulheran of Salineville.

Bills of $487.86 were ordered paid.

The board's next meeting will be held March 16 at 8:30 p. m.

Personal Endorsement

Lausche Backs Sargus On Strip Mine Controls

By WILLIAM S. VANCE

COLUMBUS — U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, gave his personal endorsement today to a bill to toughen the state's strip mine law.

Lausche, unable to attend today's Senate committee hearing, sent a strong, four - page statement to the sponsors of the bill which they planned to read into the record.

Lausche, long a proponent of tighter controls on strip mining said:

"My attempts to gain a more effective law while governor were only partially successful largely due to lack of widespread public support and the telling effects of a powerful anti-reclamation law lobby."

He observed that the picture seems to have changed and "a vast majority of the citizenry" now demands a law to provide effective reclamation.

While he supports the bill fully, Lausche called on the sponsors to tighten up two sections of the proposed law.

He suggested that strip mine operators be required to file a comprehensvie statement of "pre - planning reclamation, stating exactly what the operator intends to do and how he expects to accomplish it" before he is granted a license.

He also said minimum guidelines should be established for grading spoil banks. He said present language of the bill, requiring grading to a "useful contour is a little too loose and broad." Lausche said a useful contour "might not be a desirable contour in relation to adjacent non - mined areas."

The former governor said strip mine operators complained before the first law was enacted that compulsory reclamation would drive them out of business. "Of course, those statements since have been proven to be ridiculous," he said.

"I wish to call the committee's attention to a very advantageous situation," he said, "Little known outside the strip mine field — that strip miners of this country have had and continue today to enjoy a lucrative federal subsidy or windfall in their operations."

Lausche said he referred to the 10 per cent depletion allowance granted by the Internal Revenue Service.

"The public little understands the magnitude and the tax advantage of this 10 per cent depletion allowance," he said. The allowance in 1963 gave strip pers a tax deduction of $8,152,078 from their adjusted gross income, he said.

"I point out that the advantages derived by the strip miners as a result of the depletion allowance law would several times over pay the cost of complete reclamation on the acres stripped," Lausche said.

"It is my belief," he continued, "that the strip mine operators can well afford to apply this federal subsidy for the reclamation of the land which they have ravaged."

Post-Prom Unit Sets West Beaver Events

A combination card party and bake sale has been set for March 26 by the Western Beaver High School Post - Prom Committee.

Mrs. William Murphy, chairman, said the affair will be held at 8 p. m. at the Industry fire hall.

Tickets will be available from committee members and at the door. Proceeds will be used for the post-prom activities.

Mrs. Anthony Acon, president, said the group will meet March 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school cafetorium.

Lisbon PTA Plans Dinner

The Parent - Teacher Association of the Lincoln School at Lisbon has completed plans for the annual public dinner to be held at the school March 6 from 5 to 7 p. m.

Tickets may be purchased from teachers, room mothers of both Lincoln and McKinley School, Mrs. Sally Hurd, 424-3363; Mrs. Edward Toolis, 424-3534; Mrs. Dale Kodrich at the Courthouse and at Morgan's and Hamilton's drugstores.

This is the only fund-raising project of the PTA for the year. Mrs. Kenneth Apple is president.

Fourteen members of the Inez Marsden Circle of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Gerald Evans of Sunset Dr. Monday evening.

Mrs. Peter Cibula, president, presided for business. Members voted to co-sponsor a bake sale March 13 at the storeroom of Hillyer's Plaza, with the Couples Class of the church. Proceeds will be used for the church kitchen remodeling fund.

The annual mother-daughter banquet will be held May 11.

Devotion service was led by Mrs. Kenneth Everett, assisted by Mrs. Richard Strabley.

"Judaism" was the program topic presented by Mrs. William Burnip, Mrs. Duane Bruey and Mrs. Dennis Roberts, including a film of a Jewish Synagogue.

The next meeting will be held March 22 at the home of Mrs. Strabley of W. Lincoln Way.

Guest Night Held By Quartet Unit

A musical program featured the Guest Night observance of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday at the Elks Club ballroom.

Quartet selections were presented by Charles Beaver, Robert and Richard Kittridge and Don Schussler.

Dean Manning played a tape recording of the performance of the Jolly Boys Quartet in the Buffalo Parade in 1952. He was a member of the group, along with Tiny Fisher, Milton Stewart and Chuck Brooks.

Beaver, vice president, conducted business and introduced Dick Willoughby of Toronto, area councilor, who spoke.

Lunch was served by Don Wood and Jerry Jividen. The next session will be held Monday.

Driver Given Leniency In Hit-Skip Case

John J. Smusz, 29, of 689 Lincoln Ave., was given a suspended 10-day term in County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident Feb. 6 on Dresden Ave.

Smusz was ordered to pay the court costs and obey all the traffic laws of East Liverpool and the State of Ohio as conditions to the sentence suspension.

Smusz was cited by Patrolman L. E. Richard after his car allegedly struck a parked auto owned by Mrs. Anna Mae Warrick, 911 Dresden Ave. He entered a "no contest" plea on Feb. 8 and his case was continued until today to give him an opportunity to pay for the damages to Mrs. Warrick's car.

Smusz advised the court today the damages have been paid. The judge lectured him for allegedly fleeing the accident but commented the fact he had paid the damages was in his favor.

James M. Cooperider, 30, of Zanesville forfeited a $17.50 bond on a State Highway Patrol charge of operating a commercial vehicle that was not carrying required safety equipment. The patrol said Cooperider was cited Saturday at 7:30 a. m. after his rig broke down on Route 30 of East Liverpool.

Robert M. Duffy, 48, of 1045 Riverview St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Pennsylvania Ave. and was ordered to pay the costs on a second charge of improper motor vehicle registration. Duffy was cited at 5:11 p. m. Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Paul Blevins. He showed the court proof this morning that his registration now is correct.

Wellsville Kiwanians Hear Talk On Housing

Mayor William Daugherty spoke on low - cost housing development at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

He said he is investigating the possibility of obtaining low-cost housing for Wellsville. He asked the club to support the proposal if it becomes a reality.

Twenty attended, including a delegation from the Lisbon Kiwanis on an official inter-club visit.

Driver Charged In Area Mishap

A Park Way Ext. motorist was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way after his car apparently skidded into a passing auto on Park Way Tuesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Marvin Edwin Triguba, 34, of Park Way pulled out of the driveway and was unable to halt, officers said, and his 1962 coach struck a passing 1964 auto operated by Gary Allen Bookman, 20, of R.D. 2 about a half mile south of the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. Triguba was fined $10 and costs on the charge today in Municipal Court.

John Wendell Floyd, 20, of Salem was cited for speeding yesterday afternoon after his 1963 truck veered off a curve of Route 154 about two miles east of Rogers and struck some large rocks along the road.

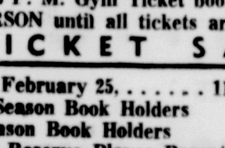

Damage to the truck was moderate, the patrol said.

Lisbon Trucker Fined For Hitting 2 Autos

LISBON — Robert L. Daugherty, 43, of 323 Sherman St. was fined $10 and costs Tuesday night by Mayor Dean Stockman for failure to stop within the assured clear distance. He was cited by police after his truck struck two parked cars.

In other cases, $15 bonds were forfeited by Carl Hoppel, 21, of East Liverpool R. D. 3, for speeding, and John H. Williams, 25, of Bluejacket, Okla., for failing to obey a stop light.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Substitute Action For Fattening Nibbles

One homemaker has contrived a novel plan of action by which she hopes to slim down on the double. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

I have a plan: Instead of nibbling, which adds calories, I'll take action to use calories. I need to know how many calories I would use in various activities. For example, in climbing a flight of stairs (14 steps), does it take more calories to run up than it does to walk up the steps? How many for vigorous stretching? Does dancing use many calories?

"My strategy is this: Instead of eating a piece of pie or cake which would furnish about 400 calories, if I turn to exercise and use up 100 calories, then I will have gotten rid of 500 calories," she concluded.

HOW'S THAT again? This is what might be termed strictly feminine logic. The idea is fine and slimming, even though the mathematics are juggled. Start with this principle: Calories used in an activity, when not replaced by food, are drawn from fat storage. But simply turning down 400 cake calories cannot be equated with burning 400 calories already stored. Still, on the credit side, those 400 calories are not added either!

Now to burn 100 calories. It is true that the speed at which a given amount of work is performed affects the energy required. Fast movements use more calories than slow movements. However, the practice of running upstairs involves strain and is not worth doing. Climbing a flight of stairs is good exercise for hip and leg muscles, but it does not burn many calories. Why? Because it requires so little time to climb the stairs. In a given activity you burn only so many calories per minute.

MANY FACTORS influence the amount of energy used in activities — weight, age, rate, temperature, etc. Our homemaker is in her mid-forties and weighs 160 pounds. Thus in walking up a flight of stairs she would use less than three calories.

So what to do to burn 100 calories? Take a straight - away walk. At her weight, she would burn 4.4 calories per minute, walking at the normal rate of three miles an hour. In 20 minutes she would burn 88 calories —and tone up, too.

Stretching? Excellent, for this comes under the head of physical activity, which uses three to four calories per minute. A 10-minute stretch - exercise session is extra slimming, for it also tones muscles.

Dancing? Perfect. Here are the calories used per minute: Foxtrot, 5.2; waltz, 5.7; rumba, 7.0. And what fun.

Our homemaker is on the right track. A small amount of regular exercise, taken in place of fattening nibbles, can strike a balance between calories consumed and calories burned. Happy slimming!

Practice Some More

WYOMING, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Rosena Kremers, 56, was taking her driver's test. Patrolman George Isler, the testing officer, said she put her car into drive instead of reverse and it jumped a concrete bumper and hit the police station. Damage was slight. Isler said Mrs. Kremers' learning permit was renewed for two months.

Today In History

(By The Associated Press)

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 24, the 55th day of 1965. There are 310 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1803, Chief Justice John Marshall announced the Supreme Court's historic ruling in the Marbury case. The ruling laid down the principle of the high court's supremacy in declaring what is, or is not, in accord with the Constitution.

On this date

In 1785, John Adams, later the second president, was made minister to Great Britain.

In 1863, Arizona was organized as a territory.

In 1920, the Nazi party was founded in Germany.

In 1903, the United States acquired the naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

In 1943, an Allied air armada bombed Wilhelmshaven, Germany.

Five years ago — Italian Premier Antonio Segni resigned following charges his policies had been "slipping to the left."

One year ago — A committee of the Organization of American States accused Cuba of maintaining a policy of aggression against Venezuela.

For short distances, ice skates are faster than roller skates. For longer distances, roller skates are faster because they require less stamina to maintain speed.

2 Sentenced, Shot 'Smokey The Bear'

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP) — Two McMinn County, Tenn., men have received 60-day jail sentences and a year's probation for shooting Smokey the Bear twice with a shotgun.

District Ranger Dinnie F. Lambert said the men shot Smokey in the face on both sides of a U.S. Forest Service sign newly installed on Tennessee Highway 68.

Smokey is the agency's fire prevention symbol.

The sign had been set up only three hours. The shots went all the way through and burst the plywood on the opposite side, Lambert said.

U.S. Commissioner H. Arnold Morgan of Chattanooga suspended the jail terms, but required the men to pay for replacing the damaged sections. The sign cost $102.

Rotary Club Pays Tribute To Barth

Harold B. Barth, one of two living charter members of the East Liverpool Rotary Club, was honored during the noon dinner meeting of the club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

The occasion marked the 45th anniversary of the East Liverpool club and the 60th anniversary of the founding of the first club in the United States.

Barth, who has served as secretary of the local organization since it was chartered Dec. 1, 1920, is, as far as can be determined, the oldest secretary in point of service in Rotary International.

—:—

HE WAS presented with a leather attache case and a portrait of himself, with an appropriate plaque, to be hung in the museum of the Carnegie Public Library, where he serves as curator.

William B. Louthan, the other charter member, was ill and unable to attend the meeting.

The presentations were made in behalf of 30 visiting past presidents of the local club by C. V. Hughes, one of the past presidents and a senior active member.

Past presidents in attendance included Joseph M. Wells, who served during 1923-24, and Malcolm W. Thompson, who was president in 1926-27.

Others were Robert E. Boyce, Raymond S. Buzzard, Francis H. Lang, Adnah L. White, Paul E. Hutchman, Richard V. Beatty, David G. Boyce, Maxon H. King, J. Wilson Hepplewhite, Frank A. Dawson.

William D. Ogilvie, C. Walter Ashbaugh, William E. Dunlap, William B. Cooper, James H. Riggs, Don L. Burbick, John M. Pinney, Clarence M. Mayberry, Edwin L. Bayley, Dean M. Wilhelm, Charles D. Taylor.

George Hargraves Jr., R.Jay Kinsey, Sidney C. Porter Jr. and Ralph A. Finley.

IN MAKING the presentations, Hughes said that "he had had many experiences in his life, but one of the best was knowing Harold Barth." He declared "there is no better secretary in any Rotary Club in the country . . .and no club has any better records than those kept by him."

Barth spoke briefly, giving a brief history of the founding of Rotary by five young men in Chicago on Feb. 23, 1905, and its growth to the present 560,000 members in 11,800 clubs located in 127 different countries.

He reminded that from the early days of the club, the twin mottoes have been "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

BARTH RELATED how the East Liverpool Club organized with 25 members in 1920, under the sponsorship of the Alliance club, and described the problems that were overcome in order to become eligible for a charter.

One problem — and a big one — was that to be eligible for a Rotary club a community had to have a population of at least 25,000.

Barth said the local group overcame this obstacle by "annexing" Wellsville, Newell, Chester and Midland.

He also discussed the early work of the club in establishing clinics and workshops for crippled children of the area.

In what he termed "a critical analysis of what Rotary is supposed to be," Barth reviewed what changes he thought Rotary as a whole and the leaders in particular have gone through.

He said he felt the leadership of Rotary, at the governor level especially, was not on a par with that of earlier days and cited the lack of available time to meet the increased duties as a probable reason.

—:—

BRYCE W. KENDALL of Salem, district governor, offered a few remarks and said that during the observance of this 60th anniversary "Rotarians should take pride in the past, but primarily, should re-dedicate themselves to the vision of a bright future."

He reminded the local club of the district meeting April 23 and 24 in Salem.

Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio will be one of the speakers at the affair, along with a past governor and two past presidents of Rotary.

Richard O. Wilson was program chairman for Tuesday's meeting. Alvin T. Babb, president, presided.

Beauty Shop Group Aids Aged, Children

The closing activity of "National Beauty Salon Week" was conducted Monday when a group of members of Unit 15 of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association performed welfare services at the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture.

Residents from area rest homes and children of the Elkton Retarded Children's School received shampoos, sets, hair cuts and permanents.

Participating were Miss Eleanor Doak, chairman of welfare work; Mrs. Dorothy Putnam, Mrs. Evelyn Messenger, Mrs. Grace Pinney, Miss Jackie Goppert, Mrs. Dora Fickle, Earl Stratton, Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Rex Starkey, Miss Mary Ellen Dickey, Mrs. Alma Dotson, Mrs. Thelma Shamp and Miss Marie Gallagher, assisted by students of the school. Box luncheons were served at noon.

Local Dentist Speaks For Chester Kiwanis

Dr. Myer Alpern, East Liverpool dentist, spoke on "Dental Health" at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Chester City Hall Auditorium.

He was introduced by Dr. Frank Bragg, program chairman. Twenty-one attended. Invocation was by the Rev. C. Donald Vogel of the Chester First United Presbyterian Church.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday night.

Man Names Estranged Wife For Theft Of Borrowed Auto

In one of the most unusual auto theft charges ever filed in Municipal Court, an East End woman was arraigned today before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an affidavit filed by her estranged husband, alleging that she took a car which had been loaned to the husband by a friend.

James Halstead of Alpha St. filed the charge against his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Halstead, formerly of Alpha St. but now residing at Winona. He alleged that she drove away Sunday in a 1959 Pontiac sedan which had been loaned to him by Rex N. Kreefer, 252 Baum St. Kreefer also signed the affidavit.

Mrs. Halstead countered with an affidavit in which she accused her husband of striking her, also on Sunday.

Kreefer's auto was reported recovered at Lisbon late Monday afternoon by the county sheriff's department. Kreefer and Halstead later filed the auto theft charge against Mrs. Halstead.

The court continued both the auto theft and the assault charges until March 18. Halstead had been free on an $82.50 bond. The court released the bond and permitted Halstead to go free on his own recognizance.

Mrs. Halstead also was released on her own recognizance. She was represented by Atty. Joseph Baronzzi, former assistant county prosecutor.

In filing the theft report, Kreefer told police at 11 a. m. Monday that the four - door Pontiac sedan was taken from Alpha St. between 4 p. m. Friday and 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

Police said he reported at the time he had loaned the car to Halstead and believed that Halstead's wife had driven away in it.

The capital city of West Irian has had three names in less than two years. When former Netherlands New Guinea was turned over to Indonesia, Hollandia became Kotabaru. Now it is called Sukarnapura to honor Indonesian President Sukarno.

125 At Blue And Gold Event Of Trinity Church Cub Pack

Robert Gray of Chester, former Cherokee District scout executive, was guest speaker at the Blue and Gold dinner of the Cub Scout Pack 12 of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night and over 125 attended.

Other guests were Mrs. Gray and daughter, Bonnie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Skidmore and Dale Thornton, scoutmaster of Troop 12.

Donald Raber, assistant cubmaster, aided in presenting awards to Tom Sloan, John Richardson, Scott Calhoun, Fred Hyder, Steve Lockhart, Steve Wiegand, David Toot, Donald Jones, David Wilson.

Service pins were presented Lester Poe, 23 years; Sam Parkes, seven; Mrs. Ruth Parkes, six; Donald Raber, four; Bob Heacock, Mrs. Pat Heacock, Carrie Galas, Andy Parkes, Mark Hill, Elliott Forsyth and Bobby Brown, three; Robert Brewster, Wilbur Lucas, Mrs. Roberta Lucas, Bernard Casto, Mrs. Jacqueline E. Casto, David Toot and Scott Calhoun, two, and Mrs. Doris Calhoun, Jimmy Dray, Danny Huddleston, Fred Hyder and Donald Jones, one.

Den mothers given recognition were Mrs. Doris Calhoun and Mrs. Pat Sloan, Den 1; Mrs. Heacock, Mrs. Alice Malone, Den 2; Mrs. Thelma Francis, Den 5; Mrs. Ruth Parkes, Den 6, and Mrs. Pat Huddleston and Mrs. Alma Dray, Den 7.

Alan Sims, senior patrol leader of Scout Troop 12, assisted by eight scouts, conducted a candlelight ceremony in which Bobby Brown of Den 5, a Webelos recipient, was taken into the troop. Bobby, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Brown of Idaho Ave., presented his mother with the miniature mother's pin.

The invocation was given by Earl Locke; group singing was led by Mrs. Heacock and the benediction was given by the Rev. H. Gene Toot, co-pastor. Mrs. Emmett Lawrence was in charge of the dinner arrangements.

A planning meeting will be held Monday night at the home of Sam Parkes of Laura Ave., cubmaster.

Awards Given Cubs, Scouts At St. Ann Church's Dinner

The presentation of awards and merit badges featured the annual dinner meeting of Cub Scout Pack 60 and Boy Scout Troop 60 at St. Ann's Catholic Church Sunday night at the church hall.

Robert W. Gray of Chester, former Cherokee District scout executive, was guest speaker. Robert Hocking, institutional representative, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Gray and daughter, Bonnie, and Wayne Wilson, commissioner of the two units.

Hocking, who led the invocation, was master of ceremonies. Dave Hargraves, senior patrol leader, led the flag salute.

Ross Williamson, cubmaster, presented awards to the following scouts: Richard Hocking, James Pantoni, Donald Ramsey, Frank Mikeals, Frank Richards and Robert Richards. New members of the pack include Timothy Walker and William Emmerling.

Rodney and Roger Cornman received service pins; James Canton and Hocking, five-year service pins as committeemen; Mrs. Amelia Richards, two - year service pin and with Mrs. Francis Ramsey received certificate of appreciation.

John Chan, Mike Hargraves, Dave Hargraves and Jonathan Ramsey, scouts, were presented bronze palms for their Eagle Rank. Ramsey, who is attending school in Erie, received the award through his parents. The presentation was made by Don Ramsey, scoutmaster.

Other awards were presented James Hocking, Robert Hocking, Gilbert Richards, George Richards, Pat Purton, Mike Kreefer, Robert Bosco, Andy Hughes, Danny Vallera, Craig Means, Robert Kays, Steve McConnachie and James Chan.

On behalf of Fr. Thomas Beldue, pastor, Hocking presented an award to the boys who attended Mass and Communion regularly on Scout Sundays. Most serve as altar boys.

Ramsey thanked Mrs. Robert Hocking and Mrs. Jesse Vallera who were co-chairmen of the dinner committee and also the mothers who assisted.

New Date Set On Tax Cases

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted continuances until March 10 in the cases of four men accused of failure to comply with the city income tax law by not filing final returns on 1963 income and estimates on 1964 earnings.

The new hearing dates were set for William Barnes, 128 W. Church Ln., Harold Freeman, rear 744 Sophia St., Kenneth Yost, 460 Mulberry St., and Glenn Weyand Jr., 1195 Dodge St.

The judge ordered a bench warrant for Lloyd Kirby, 610 College St., who failed to appear for a hearing on the same charge.

After a brief hearing, Harry Bazluk of Thompson Pl. was found not guilty — also on charges involving a final 1963 return and a 1964 estimate. Bazluk explained he is on Social Security and does not work. He had pleaded not guilty.

The charges were filed against the men Feb. 15 by D. G. Wilkinson, city income tax commissioner.

Queried by the court, Wilkinson said Barnes had been warned "at least five times" on his non - compliance. Questioned by the court, Barnes said he "forgot" the returns, which were due April 15, 1964.

Wilkinson said Freeman was warned three times. Freeman told the court he did not file returns because "I didn't know how much I owed."

Yost explained he works at Steubenville and pays a city tax there and was unaware he also was subject to an Esat Liverpool tax.

In each instance, the judge told the defendants at least to file the required forms prior to March 10.

Eliis Island has been abandoned since 1954, when the Immigration and Naturalization Service moved its activities to Manhattan.

Midland Man Elected To Clinic Board

Truman E. Rodfong of Midland is among seven new directors elected at the Beaver County Mental Hygiene Clinic organization's sixth annual dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Park United Presbyterian Church in Beaver.

Others named were William J. Gordon of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Emily Howe, William J. Pauley and Atty. John N. Sawyer, all of Beaver, J. Allan Griffith of Vanport and D. Roy Mackintosh of Baden.

In election of officers, Wilson E. Tucker of Rochester, president; Dr. Nicholas Krayer of Beaver, vice president, and Atty. Peter O. Steege of Brighton Township, were given new terms.

Mrs. David Lindsay of Brighton Township was named secretary.

Dr. David Spence, clinic medical director, presented the annual report. William Forrester of Pittsburgh, chairman of Region 1 of the comprehensive mental health project for the Department of Public Welfare, was guest speaker. About 65 attended.

Pastor Has Series In Maine Pulpits

The Rev. John R. Rankin, pastor of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian Church at Hickory, Pa., and a native of Wellsville, has completed a week of followup services for the conclusion of a Billy Graham Associates Crusade in Lewiston-Auburn, Maine. The crusade took in 192 churches.

Rev. Rankin held services in five churches that included the Presbyterian, Assembly of God, Baptist, Advent Christian and United Church of Christ.

Rev. Rankin is the son of Mrs. Ella Mae Rank, who resides in Wellsville, and the late Rev. John A. Rankin, who was minister of the former United Presbyterian Church, now merged with the Riverside Presbyterian Church.

He has been at the Mt. Prospect church for four years.

School Fund Bill Advances

House Unit Again To Air Proposed Sales Tax Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Education Committee turns its attention again tonight to the initiated sales tax bill which is vying for top attention in the State Legislature.

Initial hearings on the measure two weeks ago attracted an overflow crowd, about double the turnout for first airing of the widely-publicized bill to extend bus transportation to parochial and private school pupils. The tax bill proposes a boost in the sales tax from three to four per cent to raise an additional $116 million a year for schools.

Rep. B. A. Broughton, R-Geauga, chairman of the education committee, is alternating hearings weekly on the two hot school issues which thus far have overshadowed all other pending legislation.

So-called "fair housing" legislation, another issue which figures to draw widespread attention as it did two years ago, has been introduced in the Senate and assigned to the Committee on Labor and Commerce. The date for the first hearing has not been announced.

The first appropriations bill to be acted on at this session cleared the House Tuesday by a vote of 119-0. It calls for a $7½ million allocation to make up a school deficiency in the current biennium.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, told House members the deficiency had been predicted and that it resulted from "extended services, increased administration costs and other factors."

Two other measures were passed Tuesday by the House although one squeaked through 72-56 after long debate with only three votes to spare.

The bill which now goes to the Senate would permit taking of depositions from doctors in court cases being tried in their home counties. Under present law, depositions from doctors may only be presented when he lives in another county.

Sponsors contended the measure will facilitate court processes and save the time and money of litigants. Rep. Edmund James, R-Noble, chairman of the judiciary committee, joined sponsors in defense of the proposal.

Rep. Harry McIlwain, R-Hamilton, an attorney, asserted the bill would increase the difficulty of getting doctors into court to testify.

"You have to black-jack a doctor today to get him into court," McIlwain declared.

Ohio would join 25 other states which have agencies to promote the arts under provisions of a bill which cleared the House 118-10. Rep. Stanley Aronoff, R-Hamilton, authored the proposal which calls for creation of a 15-member arts council to be named by the Governor.

The Council would survey Ohio's cultural and artistic resources, plan for their future, and "assess the role of the arts in the growth and development of the state".

More than three dozen more bills were introduced as the lawmakers reached the halfway point in their sixth work week. Among them was a modified capital punishment measure by Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, with co-sponsors.

Kurfess' measure would provide the death penalty in first degree murder convictions only when recommended by the jury. Presently, the jury is empowered only to recommend mercy.

The House also received bills to abolish mayors' courts and give their jurisdictions to county courts, provide for the service of summons on minors, designate U. S. 52 in Lawrence County the "Thomas Jenkins Memorial Highway" in honor of a former member, and increase the penalty for the illegal taking of deer.

In the latter measure, Rep. Delbert B. Jeffery, R-Paulding, proposes a fine of $100-$500 and 30 days in jail, or both, with violators forbidden to take or possess deer for a three-year period.

The Senate received 10 new bills, including proposals for a statehouse office for local governments and repeal of a law banning strikes by public employes.

GOP Group Lists Events

LISBON — Atty. Charles Pike, Columbiana County Republican chairman, reviewed plans for three district GOP events at the meeting of the Republican Advisory Council Monday noon at the Wick Hotel.

The Columbiana Teen-age Republican Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Joshua Dixon School.

William Weir, safety director with the Ohio State Highway Department division office at New Philadelphia, will be guest speaker for the Mid - County Republican Club meeting March 3 at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Charlotte Crothers, club president, will preside at the meeting in the GOP headquarters on E. Lincoln Way. It is open to the public.

The annual Lincoln Day dinner will be held March 9 at the South Side School in Columbiana with Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe as principal speaker.

A film produced by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. was screened. The council's next luncheon meeting will be held March 8 at noon at the hotel.

1 Killed, 3 Injured As Big Rig Runs Wild

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A trailer truck ran wild down a steep Johnston street Tuesday, causing havoc in which one man was killed and three were seriously injured.

The truck, partially loaded with cases of pickles, hit two trucks and three cars before smashing into a building. The cab was embedded in the wall.

A utility pole was knocked down and wires were scattered about the street.

Killed was Charles Kocher, 60, of Johnstown. His panel truck, the only other moving vehicle involved, was struck by the runaway rig.

Taken to Lee Hospital were: John Goodrich, 47, of Nanty Glo, a passenger in Kocher's truck; Edward Hardy, 42, of Johnstown, who tried to run into a nearby building to escape the truck; and Worth H. Jilcott, 45, of Greenville, N. C., the driver of the rig.

National Steel Aide Of Weirton Promoted

PITTSBURGH — Charles E. Eddy, manager of special services of the National Steel Research and Development department, will join the corporation's raw material department at its Grant Building headquarters March 1, it is announced by George A. Stinson, president of National Steel.

Eddy became associated with National at the Weirton Steel Division in 1946. He became superintendent of mechanical shops in 1955 and raw materials engineer in 1957. In the following year he was transferred to the research and development activity, was named assistant to the director in 1959 and advanced to his present position in July 1964. He is a native of Weirton.

Service To Be March 5

79th Prayer Day Observances Set

The 79th annual observance of "World Day of Prayer" will be held March 5 with several community churches planning to unite with the world Christian community in prayerful supplication.

The Council of United Church Women is sponsoring services at 2 p. m. in the Oakland Free Methodist Church and 7:30 p. m. at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church with Mrs. Harold Estel and Mrs. E. H. Seiferth as chairmen.

THE GLENMOOR United Presbyterian Church will be hostess unit at 7:45 for the congregations of the Calcutta and Longs Run churches.

Uniting six continents and more than 125 nations, this first Friday of the Lenten season has been set aside as a time for prayers for peace and brotherhood on the theme "What Doth the Lord Require."

In writing the service, Mrs. Jesse Jai McNeil of Pasadena, Calif., called the church "to a radical and deep involvement in affairs of the world in the name of Christ."

Wife of the Rev. McNeil, author and minister, she has an outstanding record in church leadership, having served as a member of the National Board of Managers of United Church Women since 1957 and as a member of the National Baptist Convention. While a resident of Michigan, she was the first Negro to receive the citation, "Layman of the Year," from the Detroit Council of Churches, and the second woman so honored.

CHURCHES participating in the afternoon service at the Oakland Free Methodist Church are the Second Baptist, Second Church of Christ, Boyce Methodist, Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist, Grace United Presbyterian and the Second United Presbyterian. Representatives of the East End churches will provide the message, music, meditations and prayer.

The Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer, pastor, will give the address at the evening service at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Mrs. Alvin Stevens will present vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. William Riedel Jr., church organist.

Mrs. H. A. Richardson will be accompanist for the numbers of the Second Baptist Church Choir.

REPRESENTATIVES of the downtown churches taking part are Mrs. Seiferth and Mrs. Alvin Arner, St. John's, Mrs. Annie Carr, St. Stephen's Episcopal; Mrs. W. E. McDaniel, First Church of Christ; Mrs. John Weber, Calvary Methodist; Mrs. Ralph Badgley, Orchard Grove Community Methodist, and Mrs. Mary Carroll, Salvation Army.

The Fellowship Departments of the Women's Association are directing the evening service at the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Virginia Smith, representing the hostess church; Mrs. Betty Holden, the Longs Run, and Mrs. Fry Reynolds, the Calcutta church.

Association presidents participating will be Mrs. Helen Friess, Glenmoor; Mrs. Jo Ann Fisher, Longs Run, and Mrs. Betty Clyde, Calcutta.

MRS. LOIS Myers, fellowship chairman of Steubenville Presbyterial, will speak on "What Doth the Lord Require," the national theme.

Vocal selections will be presented by Mrs. Sylvia Firestone and Mrs. Eileen Brown. Mrs. Helen Densmore, church organist, will be accompanist.

The Rev. Thomas Clyde of the Calcutta church will offer prayer and the Rev. Russell Shepherd of the Longs Run church the benediction.

A fellowship tea will follow under the supervision of Mrs. Betty Barnard, assisted by circle chairmen.

Housing Workshops Slated For County Young Couples

LISBON — Young couples housing workshops will be held March 11, 18 and 25, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

They have been planned by a committee of young homemakers and are sponsored by the Columbiana County Co-operative Extension service of Ohio State University.

The workshops are specifically for young couples who need to plan their present and future housing goals and those who are considering buying, building, or remodeling a home sometime in the future.

The sessions will begin at 8 p. m. in the County Extension Service office, 113 S. Market St., and baby sitting service will be provided for those who bring their children, Miss Overturf said.

The outline for the series follows:

March 11 — "General Considerations on Housing a Family," to be discussed by Miss Doris Snook, housing specialist at Ohio State University.

March 18 — "Financing Your Home and Building Codes," with local resource persons in charge.

March 25 — "Specifics to Consider If Building or Remodeling," by Miss Snook and Kenneth Battles, agricultural engineering specialist at OSU.

Other sessions will be arranged if several persons are specifically interested in either remodeling or building; otherwise, individual assistance will follow.

Enrollment is limited to couples under 30. Registration fee is $1 per family for materials and anyone who desires to enroll may write or call Miss Overturf by March 4.

No, Sir, He's Not Deceased, He's Dead

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The examination of a witness Tuesday in the trial of four men charged with slaying a mountain housewife produced this exchange:

"Who is your father?," an attorney asked.

The witness gave his father's name.

"And who is he?," fired back the lawyer.

"He's my mother's husband."

"Is he deceased?," the attorney asked.

"No, sir," answered the witness.

"Well, where is he?"

"He's dead."

Barbara Hutton Ill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, suffering from an intestinal ailment, is expected to remain at Presbyterian Medical Center for another two or three weeks.

Physicians Optimistic For Cardinal Cushing

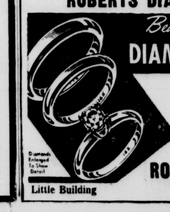

BOSTON (AP) — Physicians attending Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, have expressed satisfaction and optimism over his recovery from major abdominal surgery despite a slight setback in his condition.

The 69-year-old prelate's recovery has been retarded by an asthmatic condition, according to a bulletin issued Tuesday by the chancery office.

A section of the cardinal's intestine was removed in a 3½ hour operation Saturday. The section contained a growth known as polyps.

Gunman Robs Doctor's Wife

BEAVER — Beaver County police today still were seeking a gunman who forced his way into the home of a Beaver doctor late Tuesday morning and tied up his wife before searching the home in an apparent attempted robbery.

Beaver police said a man rang the doorbell at the home of Dr. John H. Shugert about 10 a. m., and when Mrs. Shugert answered, he forced his way in with a gun.

He forced Mrs. Shugert into a chair, and tied her with a cord from an electric appliance. He inquired "where is the safe," and proceeded to search the house for about 20 minutes after learning there is no safe at the premises.

The doctor's wife freed herself about 10 minutes after the gunman left and notified her husband at the Rochester General Hospital. Mrs. Shugert was badly shaken by the experience, according to police, but was not harmed.

As far as can be determined, nothing was taken.

The man was described as about 45 to 50 years old, about 6 feet tall and of a heavy build. He had a dark complexion and graying dark hair.

Police believe he fled in a blue and white station wagon which was seen in the area.

The oldest America sport is lacrosse, which was played by North American Indians as a part of their tribal war maneuvers long before this land was discovered by the white man.

County Pays Project Bills

LISBON — Commissioners Tuesday approved payment of bills totaling $8,940.50 on the new nursing home project at the County Home.

The expenses had been approved by Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool, architect. The payments were: Firestone Electric Co. of Salem, $7,000 on the electrical contract; Briggs-Jones, Inc., of Youngstown, $1,141 for tiling floors, and Superior Fixtures Co. of Cleveland, $799.50 for kitchen fixtures.

In other business, Meek Stationery Co. of East Palestine was given a contract for a filing cabinet for the Dog Warden's Department and three sets of lettering guides at a total cost of $407. There was one other bid of $369 from Youngstown Office Supply Co.

A desk was purchased from the Campus Equipment Co. of Youngstown for the treasurer's office on a low bid of $107.95. There were two other bids — Youngstown Office Supply, $113.50, and Meek Stationery, $129.75.

Travel allowance of $35 was approved for Welfare Director Robert Bycroft to attend an executive committee meeting of the state welfare committee today and Thursday at Columbus.

A $300 slag grant was given to Fairfield Township trustees. The commissioners next meeting will be held Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Bonefish grow by shrinking. When the young fish reach about three inches, they actually shrink an inch or two before resuming growth to attain full length of about 36 inches.

Weirton Girl Winner In District Orations

Judy Briscoe, representing Weir High School, won the district American Legion oratorical contest held in New Martinsville Tuesday night.

She is now entitled to receive a four-year tuition-free scholarship to any of the nine colleges under the jurisdiction of the West Virginia Board of Education, and will move on to sectional competition the week of March 1 in Wellsburg.

Progress Broke Down

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — The Greater Jackson Chamber of Commerce was taking members and guests on a tour of Jackson to look at progress. But the group's progress was halted abruptly. The merchant-owned Jackson Public Transportation bus broke down.

Secretive World Of Negro Extremism

Violence In Muslim Units Involved Only 2 Groups

NEW YORK (AP) — The violence that flared in rival Negro Muslim groups in the past three days involved just two of more than a dozen organizations active in the secretive world of Negro extremism.

With the exception of Elijah Muhammad's Chicago-based Black Muslims, whose New York mosque was destroyed by an explosion and fire Tuesday, most groups of any strength have headquarters in New York.

Police in a number of major American cities indicate that extremist groups command allegiance from only a comparative handful of Negroes.

Because the groups often refuse to say much about themselves, it is almost impossible to get accurate membership figures. Four years ago the New York Times estimated that perhaps only 2,000 of this city's one million Negroes were members of extremist groups, compared with 25,000 dues-paying members of the NAACP. the proportion is believed to be considerably less in all other cities.

Yet officials agree that the influence of extremists can, in times of crisis like last summer's riots, be out of proportion to the number of persons involved.

In New York City last summer, at least 17 black nationalist groups were members of a coordinating body called the African Nationalist Federated Council.

Most of these organizations were anti-white, and believed the American Negro could gain freedom only by linking his fate with that of rising African and Asian nations.

"The white man has never given us anything without outside pressure," said a nationalist speaker at a summer rally. "We can never get anywhere in this country by ourselves, because we are a minority. But what the white man doesn't understand is that black people are a majority in the world. We must look to people who are our color."

The groups are organized along varying lines. Some, like the various Muslim groups are oriented toward religion. Others are primarily political. An example is Harlem's Progressive Labor Movement, headed by self-proclaimed Communist William Epton.

About half of the Negro extremists are believed to belong to the Black Muslims, properly known as the Lost-Found Nation of Islam. Formed in 1930, it preaches complete separation of blacks and whites.

Wiry, 67-year-old Elijah Muhammad, who has led the group since 1933, says the United States should turn over "several states" for an all-black nation.

The Muslims have claimed as many as 200,000 members. Other estimates put active membership as low as 5,500. Rallies open to the non-Muslim public have drawn 3,000 in Detroit, 3,500 in St. Louis, 7,000 in Chicago and 9,000 in Philadelphia.

Although they claim to oppose violence, members occasionally have been involved in serious clashes with police. And, a number of former members have charged that a strong internal police force — the Fruit of Islam — is used to keep wayward members in line.

The Black Muslim doctrine teaches that whites are "devils" created 6,000 years ago by genetic manipulation to sow discord in an all-black world.

Their most famous defector was Malcolm X, an urbane light-skinned Negro who was shot to death as he stood on the stage of the Audubon Ballroom in Manhattan Sunday.

Longest hole - in - one by a female golfer in 1964 was scored by Mrs. Audra McDermott of Karachi, Pakistan, reports Golf Digest.

Court Sentences 3 Of Wellsville

Three Wellsville men were sentenced Tuesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, two for probation violations and one for non-support.

James Fraser, 19, of 412 Buckeye Ave. was ordered to serve a suspended six - month sentence after he refused to obey the court's orders to stay away from a 16-year-old Wellsville girl. He allegedly tried to marry the girl after the court order. He had been accused of contributing to her delinquency.

Herman Carl Hurd, 31, of 18th St. Heights was ordered to serve five months after he pleaded guilty to associating with Mrs. Edna McIntosh of Wellsville. He had served a month of a suspended sentence and was released on court orders to remain away from her. Mrs. McIntosh pleaded not guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors and her hearing was set for March 9. He also was cited for contributing. Both have children.

Arthur Thrasher Jr., 37, of 1623 Commerce St. received a six-month sentence and a fine of $500 for non-support of his 14-year-old son.

Some historians believe that the baronial and royal parties assembled on opposite sides of the Thames and met on a small island in the river to seal the Magna Carta.

County Board Urges Use Of Faculty Plan

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night discussed 12 recommendations made by first grade teachers of the four rural school systems — Beaver, Fairfield-Waterford, Southern and United Locals — and then recommended that local boards adopt them for better work in that grade.

In other business, Hubert Lawrence, school psychologist, and County Supt. James L. McBride reported on the recent American Association of School Administrators meeting they attended at Atlantic City. Both agreed it was very educational and that they received answers to questions, along with discussions on school problems at the local level.

Supt. McBride discussed progress of plans for a Community College for Columbiana County, what has been done so far and further steps that are necessary. He said the next big step would be appointment of a seven-man board by county commissioners. This board would organize the college, which has been promised by the Board of Regents and the governor of Ohio.

He also discussed the Title III program and what the school can receive and Olin Sanor, president, was authorized to sign an assurance of compliance of non-discrimination with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare regulations, under the Civil Rights Act of 1964, so that the board could receive matching funds.

Several letters were read on the county board's recommendation for reading Scripture and saying prayers in classes of the four rural schools.

Those read were from the Winona Monthly Meeting of Friends, the Rev. and Mrs. John E. Horn, 26 members of the Adult Sunday School Class at the New Garden Methodist Church and the First Friends Church in Salem.

Supt. McBride explained the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s Tele-Lecture program to be presented tonight at the Southern Local High School for the rural school administrators meeting.

He said this service of talking directly to congressmen and other officials could be made available to schools for $30 per month, plus phone toll charge to the person with whom the discussion is held. Rep. Sweeney will be speaker and answer questions at the meeting tonight.

Fred Lohman, attendance officer, reported he made 54 calls during the month, 32, at school and 22 to homes, and that he traveled 809 miles.

A resolution of sympathy will be sent to Jack F. Baker, executive head of Southern Local School, in the death of his sister, Mrs. Edna Mulheran of Salineville.

Bills of $487.86 were ordered paid.

The board's next meeting will be held March 16 at 8:30 p. m.

Personal Endorsement

Lausche Backs Sargus On Strip Mine Controls

By WILLIAM S. VANCE

COLUMBUS — U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, gave his personal endorsement today to a bill to toughen the state's strip mine law.

Lausche, unable to attend today's Senate committee hearing, sent a strong, four - page statement to the sponsors of the bill which they planned to read into the record.

Sponsors of the bill are Sens. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, Robin Turner, R-Seneca, Oliver Ocasek, D-Summit, and Ed Garrigan, R-Summit.

Lausche, long a proponent of tighter controls on strip mining said:

"My attempts to gain a more effective law while governor were only partially successful largely due to lack of widespread public support and the telling effects of a powerful anti-reclamation law lobby."

He observed that the picture seems to have changed and "a vast majority of the citizenry" now demands a law to provide effective reclamation.

While he supports the bill fully, Lausche called on the sponsors to tighten up two sections of the proposed law.

He suggested that strip mine operators be required to file a comprehensvie statement of "pre - planning reclamation, stating exactly what the operator intends to do and how he expects to accomplish it" before he is granted a license.

He also said minimum guidelines should be established for grading spoil banks. He said present language of the bill, requiring grading to a "useful contour is a little too loose and broad." Lausche said a useful contour "might not be a desirable contour in relation to adjacent non - mined areas."

The former governor said strip mine operators complained before the first law was enacted that compulsory reclamation would drive them out of business. "Of course, those statements since have been proven to be ridiculous," he said.

"I wish to call the committee's attention to a very advantageous situation," he said, "Little known outside the strip mine field — that strip miners of this country have had and continue today to enjoy a lucrative federal subsidy or windfall in their operations."

Lausche said he referred to the 10 per cent depletion allowance granted by the Internal Revenue Service.

"The public little understands the magnitude and the tax advantage of this 10 per cent depletion allowance," he said. The allowance in 1963 gave strippers a tax deduction of $8,152,078 from their adjusted gross income, he said.

"I point out that the advantages derived by the strip miners as a result of the depletion allowance law would several times over pay the cost of complete reclamation on the acres stripped," Lausche said.

"It is my belief," he continued, "that the strip mine operators can well afford to apply this federal subsidy for the reclamation of the land which they have ravaged."

Post-Prom Unit Sets West Beaver Events

A combination card party and bake sale has been set for March 26 by the Western Beaver High School Post - Prom Committee.

Mrs. William Murphy, chairman, said the affair will be held at 8 p. m. at the Industry fire hall.

Tickets will be available from committee members and at the door. Proceeds will be used for the post-prom activities.

Mrs. Anthony Acon, president, said the group will meet March 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school cafetorium.

Lisbon PTA Plans Dinner

The Parent - Teacher Association of the Lincoln School at Lisbon has completed plans for the annual public dinner to be held at the school March 6 from 5 to 7 p. m.

Tickets may be purchased from teachers, room mothers of both Lincoln and McKinley School, Mrs. Sally Hurd, 424-3363; Mrs. Edward Toolis, 424-3534; Mrs. Dale Kodrich at the Courthouse and at Morgan's and Hamilton's drugstores.

This is the only fund-raising project of the PTA for the year. Mrs. Kenneth Apple is president.

Fourteen members of the Inez Marsden Circle of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Gerald Evans of Sunset Dr. Monday evening.

Mrs. Peter Cibula, president, presided for business. Members voted to co-sponsor a bake sale March 13 at the storeroom of Hillyer's Plaza, with the Couples Class of the church. Proceeds will be used for the church kitchen remodeling fund.

The annual mother-daughter banquet will be held May 11.

Devotion service was led by Mrs. Kenneth Everett, assisted by Mrs. Richard Strabley.

"Judaism" was the program topic presented by Mrs. William Burnip, Mrs. Duane Bruey and Mrs. Dennis Roberts, including a film of a Jewish Synagogue.

The next meeting will be held March 22 at the home of Mrs. Strabley of W. Lincoln Way.

Guest Night Held By Quartet Unit

A musical program featured the Guest Night observance of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday at the Elks Club ballroom.

Quartet selections were presented by Charles Beaver, Robert and Richard Kittridge and Don Schussler.

Dean Manning played a tape recording of the performance of the Jolly Boys Quartet in the Buffalo Parade in 1952. He was a member of the group, along with Tiny Fisher, Milton Stewart and Chuck Brooks.

Beaver, vice president, conducted business and introduced Dick Willoughby of Toronto, area councilor, who spoke.

Lunch was served by Don Wood and Jerry Jividen. The next session will be held Monday.

Driver Given Leniency In Hit-Skip Case

John J. Smusz, 29, of 689 Lincoln Ave., was given a suspended 10-day term in County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident Feb. 6 on Dresden Ave.

Smusz was ordered to pay the court costs and obey all the traffic laws of East Liverpool and the State of Ohio as conditions to the sentence suspension.

Smusz was cited by Patrolman L. E. Richard after his car allegedly struck a parked auto owned by Mrs. Anna Mae Warrick, 911 Dresden Ave. He entered a "no contest" plea on Feb. 8 and his case was continued until today to give him an opportunity to pay for the damages to Mrs. Warrick's car.

Smusz advised the court today the damages have been paid. The judge lectured him for allegedly fleeing the accident but commented the fact he had paid the damages was in his favor.

James M. Cooperider, 30, of Zanesville forfeited a $17.50 bond on a State Highway Patrol charge of operating a commercial vehicle that was not carrying required safety equipment. The patrol said Cooperider was cited Saturday at 7:30 a. m. after his rig broke down on Route 30 of East Liverpool.

Robert M. Duffy, 48, of 1045 Riverview St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Pennsylvania Ave. and was ordered to pay the costs on a second charge of improper motor vehicle registration. Duffy was cited at 5:11 p. m. Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Paul Blevins. He showed the court proof this morning that his registration now is correct.

Wellsville Kiwanians Hear Talk On Housing

Mayor William Daugherty spoke on low - cost housing development at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

He said he is investigating the possibility of obtaining low-cost housing for Wellsville. He asked the club to support the proposal if it becomes a reality.

Twenty attended, including a delegation from the Lisbon Kiwanis on an official inter-club visit.

Driver Charged In Area Mishap

A Park Way Ext. motorist was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way after his car apparently skidded into a passing auto on Park Way Tuesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Marvin Edwin Triguba, 34, of Park Way pulled out of the driveway and was unable to halt, officers said, and his 1962 coach struck a passing 1964 auto operated by Gary Allen Bookman, 20, of R.D. 2 about a half mile south of the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. Triguba was fined $10 and costs on the charge today in Municipal Court.

John Wendell Floyd, 20, of Salem was cited for speeding yesterday afternoon after his 1963 truck veered off a curve of Route 154 about two miles east of Rogers and struck some large rocks along the road.

Damage to the truck was moderate, the patrol said.

Lisbon Trucker Fined For Hitting 2 Autos

LISBON — Robert L. Daugherty, 43, of 323 Sherman St. was fined $10 and costs Tuesday night by Mayor Dean Stockman for failure to stop within the assured clear distance. He was cited by police after his truck struck two parked cars.

In other cases, $15 bonds were forfeited by Carl Hoppel, 21, of East Liverpool R. D. 3, for speeding, and John H. Williams, 25, of Bluejacket, Okla., for failing to obey a stop light.
